Dr. Webb:

COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20004

Dear

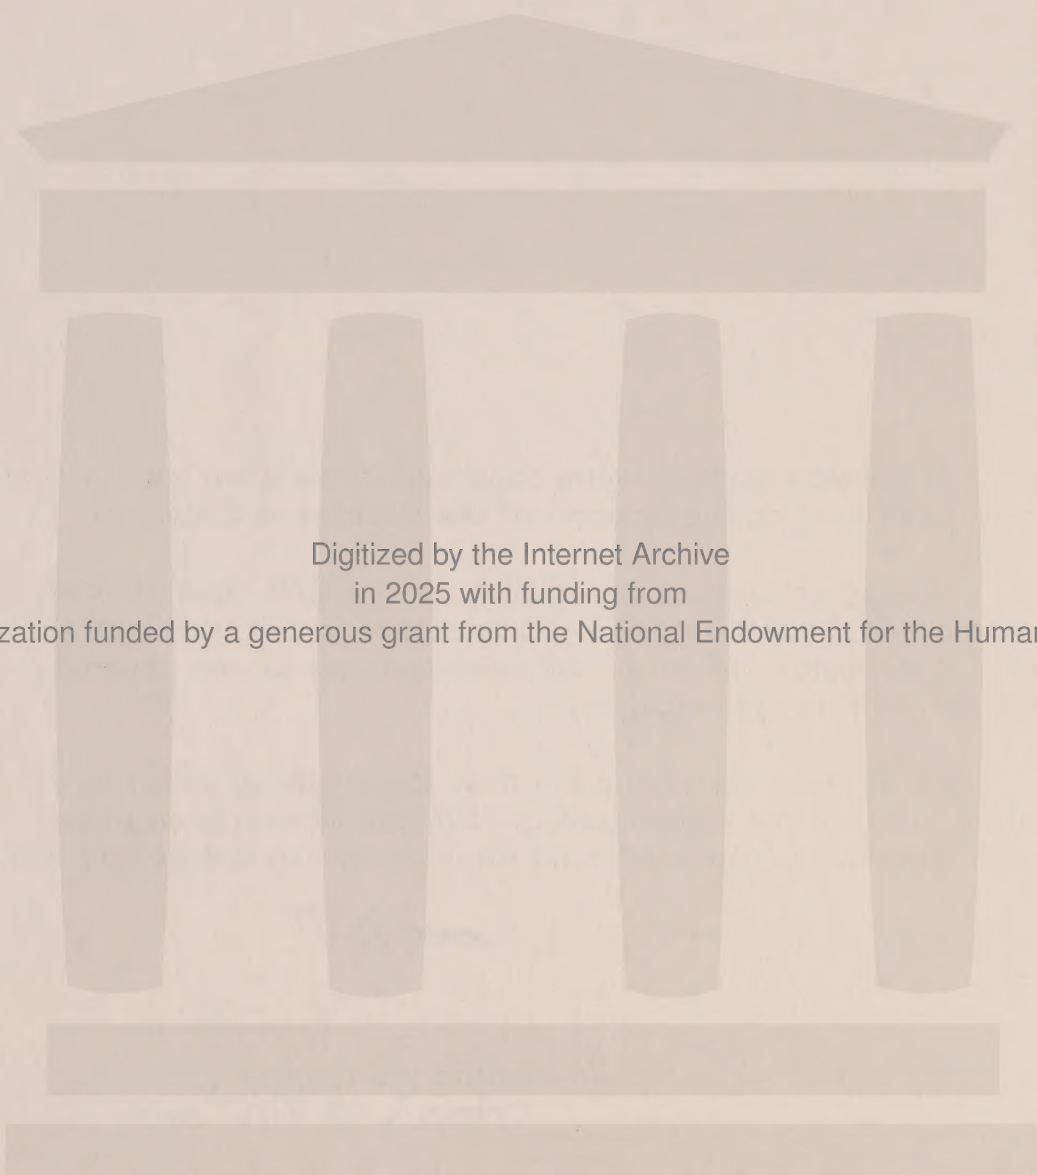

Thank you for your warm congratulations upon my election to an at-large seat on the Council of the District of Columbia.

Having an elected government for the first time in more than one hundred years is of great importance to the people of the District of Columbia, and I am very pleased, proud and honored to be a part of this historical event.

I will endeavor during the next four years to be a representative of all of the citizens of the District of Columbia in an effort to bring about improved conditions in all aspects of city life.

Sincerely,

Julius W. Hobson
Councilmember at Large

Dear Mr. Hobson:

Congratulations on your victory in the City Council races. We in the 7th District are looking forward to seeing the kind of positive and progressive leadership you and your fellow councilmen are capable of providing. We realize that things are going to be somewhat hectic in January, with the transition from the "old " to the "new" administration, however, we would greatly appreciate your attendance at our next Advisory Council meeting. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 15, at the 7th District Police Headquarters, 1324 Mississippi Avenue, S.E., at 7 p.m.

Your presence at our next meeting will be proof-positive that we have elected a "people's council" different in responsiveness to previous councils. We, the people of the 7th District, would like to wish you and yours the merriest of seasonal cheer and hope to see you soon.

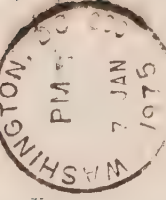

Sincerely yours,

INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF POLICE OFFICERS

December 17, 1974

Julius W. Hobson, Sr.
Councilman, District of Columbia
907 4th Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Councilman Hobson:

The International Brotherhood of Police Officers (IBPO), as the certified representative of officers and sergeants of the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department, wishes to bring to your attention a situation which is seriously affecting the morale of the members of the force.

Under the administration of the former chief, Jerry V. Wilson, the men and women of the department were permitted to wear their hair in a length and style contemporary with other citizens in their age and sex peer groups.

Unfortunately, former Acting Chief John S. Hughes saw fit on November 29, 1974, to issue new standards revising the criteria governing the personal appearance of the police officers. The result is that many officers now are faced with the prospect of disciplinary action, up to and including separation from the force, if they insist on exercising their right to continue wearing their hair in what were previously acceptable lengths or styles.

This situation is causing widespread unrest and disillusionment among the officers, who almost unanimously feel that such restrictions constitute an unwarranted invasion of their right to determine for themselves how they shall wear their hair.

This situation is compounded by the fact that D.C. firefighters, who also make up a category of uniformed D.C. Government employees, are not subject to such arbitrary restrictions. A visitor to virtually any station house in the District can observe firefighters whose hair length far exceeds that worn by any D.C. police officer.

Julius W. Hobson, Sr.

The IBPO, in its efforts to establish the right of its members to wear their hair as they wish, filed suit in Federal District Court. This action was dismissed by Judge Richey for lack of jurisdiction, and we now are preparing an action for filing in D.C. Superior Court, where no jurisdictional problem appears to exist.

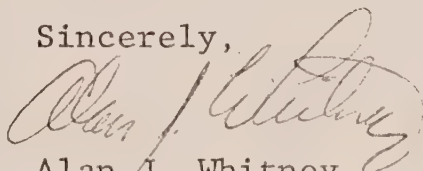

It seems to us that the newly-elected D.C. City Council is in a position to bring some common-sense and equity to this controversy by immediately, upon its installation next month, voting to eliminate that portion of the uniform and personal appearance order which restricts the officers' hair length and style.

Authority for Council action in this regard is set forth in Title IV, Section 121, which provides that "...the District of Columbia Council is hereby authorized to make and modify, and the Commissioner of the District of Columbia is hereby authorized and empowered to enforce, under such penalties as the Council may deem necessary, all needful rules and regulations for the proper government, conduct, discipline and good name of said Metropolitan Police force..."

Such action on the part of the City Council would eliminate a point of much dissatisfaction and dissension among the members of the department and also would forestall a long and acrimonious legal struggle in the courts.

We would be happy to meet with you at your convenience to discuss this proposal.

Sincerely,

RE: D. C. City Council Hearings
D. C. Rent Control

Dear Mr. Hobson:

We wish to express our deep concern about the long range effects of rent control on rental properties in the District of Columbia. The rigid rent control policies in force in 1974 resulted in a decline in operating profits in all three projects operated by our firm within the District of Columbia.

While rental receipts increased an average of 5.5% or $115.00 per unit during 1974, utilities alone increased $197.00 per unit or 79% during this identical period, with increases of a similar or greater magnitude inevitable during the coming year.

In addition to the unprecedented increase in utility costs, operating payroll increased 5.6%, advertising 22%, and trash removal 25%, forcing us to curtail maintenance to the minimum essential level and totally halt every capital improvement planned. The austerity measures implemented unquestionably resulted in a deterioration of the physical plant, which benefits neither tenants, owners, or the community. Despite reduced levels of maintenance, operating profits declined 6.8%.

Quite obviously, our industry cannot live with rigid rent controls during a time of runaway utility costs, inflationary operating costs, and record level financing costs.

Subject Teachers' Retirement Fund

The Mayor's Legislative Proposal to the Congress for 1975 requests amendment of the D.C. Code, Section 31-702, regarding deductions deposited in the U.S. Treasury for D.C. teachers' retirement. This proposal would transfer authority to the Mayor, from the Treasurer of the United States, to maintain custody of and to invest funds deposited in this retirement fund.

As I understand it, the teacher annuity fund is currently deposited in the U.S. Treasury in federal bonds. If the Congress grants the Mayor the prerogative to control the fund, the annuitants are extremely concerned that any profits, above the legally required amount of the fund, would go to D.C. rather than be reinvested in the fund. Their assertion is that the fund is contractually theirs and, since the bulk of the funds come from teacher contributions, that the fund should be remain intact. Several of the annuitants have mentioned that such funds are generally governed and monitored by a Board of Trustees.

Could the Mayor's proposal be construed as consolidating the teachers' retirement fund with the fund for policemen and firemen? What would be the impact of such consolidation?

I would like to request that your office investigate this matter and provide specific recommendations. If you have any questions, please contact Ms. Pat Miner, Committee Clerk.

Dear Mr. Hobson:

On behalf of the Howard Law Journal and the Howard University School of Law, I would like to extend an invitation to you to participate in our "Legislative Symposium" which will be held at the Howard University School of Law on March 19, 1975.

The Symposium will focus on proposed and current legislation which affects minorities and the disadvantaged, and will be presented in two parts. The morning session which begins at 9:30 am and runs until 12:30 pm, features members of the Black Caucus discussing their views on national legislation in which they are currently involved. Speakers will specifically address themselves to the impact such legislation will have upon the rights and interests of minorities and the disadvantaged. The afternoon session begins at 2:00 pm and runs until 4:30 pm, and features members of the District of Columbia Government discussing legislation which affects solely residents of the District of Columbia and surrounding area.

You will be given a maximum of 30 minutes to make your presentation and you are requested to submit an outline of your presentation, together with a copy of the legislation you intend to discuss (if available) to the Howard Law Journal, no later than March 10, 1975. We invite you to join us for lunch during the break between the morning and afternoon sessions.

It is the feeling of the Journal that your participation will enhance the quality of the Symposium and we sincerely hope that your schedule will permit you to participate.

Consideration on the Practice of Acupuncture in the District of Columbia

As of this writing the fate of the D.C. City Council Regulation pertaining to acupuncture and passed in December 1974 is still pending in courts. This regulation limits the practice of acupuncture to duly licensed physicians and dentists in the District of Columbia. At the same time, the Director of the Department of Human Resources has been requested to develop examinations and other criteria for licensure of practitioners of acupuncture who are neither licensed to practice medicine or dentistry in the District of Columbia and to recommend minimum standards for clinics specializing in acupuncture. The duration of this regulation is one year.

In a letter from Dr. Louise Wensel, Director of the Washington Acupuncture Center to the Honorable Julius W. Hobson, D.C. City Council (no date, copy attached) Dr. Wensel proposes a set of guidelines to regulate the practice of acupuncture in the District of Columbia.

Acupuncture is an integral part of the healing arts. The practice of this modality is governed by several considerations.

At the Federal level, the supervening law is the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, Section 502, which deals with labelling and misbranding of drugs and devices. Acupuncture needles and equipment are covered by this Section. Any state law on acupuncture is secondary to this Federal law which has been upheld by the United States Supreme Court. By notice in the Federal Register dated February 21, 1973, and published on March 9, 1973, the Deputy Commissioner of Food and Drugs issued a notice to the manufacturers, packers and distributors of acupuncture devices entitled, "Acupuncture Devices Labelling." (Copy attached) In this notice, it is stated, that "Until evidence is obtained demonstrating that acupuncture is a safe and effective medical technique, acupuncture devices must be limited to investigational or research use." It also directs that the following statement appears in the labelling: "Caution: Experimental device limited to investigational use by or under the direct supervision of a licensed medical or dentist practitioner. This device is to be used only with informed consent under conditions designed to protect the patient as a research subject, where the scientific protocol for investigation has been reviewed and approved by an appropriate institutional review committee and where conditions for such use are in accordance with State law."

It is obvious from this quotation that any use of the acupuncture needle should be in accordance with an approved protocol of research which spells out in no equivocal terms the conditions in which the investigational device is going to be used, the results to be achieved, the measurements of these achievements, and a complete follow-up over the period of time determined by the protocol. Reporting of these results will become the basis of determining the effectiveness of acupuncture devices in the conditions treated.

It is apparent that Dr. Wensel in her letter to Mr. Hobson never addressed this problem nor did she mention a pre-determined protocol which has to be approved by an appropriate institutional review committee to control and evaluate the use of acupuncture in the conditions investigated.

The question of informed consent is also of prime importance in these investigations. The guidelines to be used in this regard are the standards established for investigation of drugs in 21CFR130.37 and in Division 10, Unit C of Form FD-1571, in 21CFR130.3 (a) (2).

At the state level, the state of New York appointed in May 1973 a state commission on acupuncture which issued in April 1974 a report covering the whole subject of acupuncture practice. Following this report, an amendment to the rules of the Board of Regents and regulations of the Commissioners of Education were issued. This amendment, which became effective October 15, 1974, is based on the above mentioned notice of the Food and Drug Administration. It distinguished between the practice of acupuncture inside or outside of an institutional setting. Only licensed physicians and dentists can practice inside and outside of the institutional setting. Practitioners other than physicians and dentists cannot practice acupuncture except within an institutional setting under supervision. The amendment goes also to require at least 100 hours of instruction in programs in acupuncture for physicians and dentists to be able to run an acupuncture clinic and supervise a non-physician or non-dentist acupuncturist.

Dr. Wensel's proposal covers only one small segment of the total picture of the practice of acupuncture. It relates solely to the end result which is a licensed physician or dentist practicing acupuncture or supervising a certified acupuncturist.

The question of certifying an acupuncturist is closely related to the approval of the previous education and training received by this acupuncturist. It is not confined to the mere fact of passing an examination. In order to be accepted into an examination the candidate should satisfy first an educational requirement in an approved institution. On the other hand, all foreign graduates in the healing arts should pass a test in the English language attesting to their capability to understand and express themselves in the field of their practice.

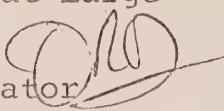

The question of "direct supervision" by a licensed medical or dental practitioner remains to be settled. How many acupuncturists can a licensed physician or dentist directly supervise at a given time, one, two, three or more and maintain a quality control over their work?

In conclusion, we think that the provisions suggested by Dr. Wensel can be used in an amendment to the D.C. regulation, But they should be incorporated in a total legislation which includes and conforms with provisions of the Federal law.

Dear Councilman Hobson:

We call to your attention the architectural and engineering selection process for the proposed development of the tract of land formerly used for the Bolling Field Air Force Base, into a commercial/residential and office space complex -- estimated at $100 million, Phase I.

Some minority firms, applied in joint venture with larger local firms of the District for participation. However, we have been informed that a Detroit firm with no local base is in the process of negotiating a contract for this project.

Recently, we have been faced with rejection of contracts in Maryland, Virginia and other parts of the country because each jurisdiction takes a position of giving major support to practitioners in their respective location during this difficult period. We believe strongly that the representation of our city should likewise be concerned that local practitioners here participate in local projects.

We believe it is essential that our city representatives become concerned about the practice of Government agencies procuring out-of-town professional services while local professional services are finding it difficult to survive.

As of Friday, March 22nd, this project had not been officially awarded. The concern of the Council should be expressed promptly to the Cheseapeake Division of the Navy Department, the procuring agency. If a brief meeting could be held with members of the Council, more particulars on this matter could be discussed, and contact with the agency made.

We appreciate your concern and attention to this situation.

Respectfully Yours,

Guidelines Win Hailed; New Rent Levels Due

Owners of stabilized and decontrolled apartments may be able to get higher rent increases to compensate for skyrocketing operating costs as a result of last week's Supreme Court decision in the two rent guidelines cases.

Justice Sidney Fine directed the Rent Guidelines Board to revise the stabilized guidelines of 8½, 10½ and 12 percent because it failed to consider the full impact of operating expenses. Fine's order—not issued at REW presstime—was also expected to call for a change in the decontrolled guidelines for the same reason.

At presstime it wasn't known if the city would appeal the decision. If so, there would be an automatic stay.

Praised by Owners

Ruben Klein, president of the Bronx Realty Advisory Board, a plaintiff, called the decision "a good one, even though we have to await the final outcome of the case."

William A. Moses, chairman of Community Housing Improvement Program (CHIP), said the decision "puts the board on notice that it cannot simply bend to political pressure. Hopefully, owners will get a fairer shake from now on."

What Ruling Covers

Justice Fine actually ruled on two cases—one brought by stabilized owners against the inadequacy of the stabilization increases and the other brought by controlled owners who objected to the revised decontrolled guidelines which were made at the direction of the City Council's General Welfare Committee and the Stein Temporary State Commission on Living Costs. The board had originally given decontrolled owners the same 8½, 10½ and 12 percent increases, but later came up with a complex formula tying increases to 1972 MBR's.

The Fine decision also throws out the gas and electric inclusion increases which, at only 1½ percent above the regular increases, were much too small to compensate owners for soaring utility costs, the plaintiffs maintained.

What Judge Said

In his decision, Fine stated: "A reading of the explanatory statements... fails to show in detail the specific facts upon which respondents (Guidelines Board) based the determination fixing the maximum rent increases permitted under leases. The mere conclusory statements contained therein fail to show how the determination was arrived at and what weight was given to the various criteria which they were obliged to consider."

"The failure of respondents to make proper specific findings is not excused by the contention that there was only a limited time available to them and that they were dependent on a staff over which they had no control..."

"Accordingly, these proceedings are remanded to the respondents to make proper findings consistent with this opinion."

CHIP Seminar

The guidelines decision drew loud applause at last week's CHIP seminar in the Roosevelt Hotel.

The seminar started with a unique Q&A period during which owners gathered in small groups and asked questions about their own buildings and problems. The experts providing answers included Irving Cohen, Joan Duncan, Laurence Gold, Barry Fishman, Dina Katz and Sanford Sirulnick.

CHIP chairman Moses told the audience that the organization would keep close tabs on the upcoming legislative session in Albany, as well as any moves in Washington to institute a complete wage-price-rent freeze.

CHIP also elected five new directors at the meeting: Seymour Durst, Frank Eberhard, Jr., William Langfan, Lou Maresca and Murray Stark. Durst's election was significant because he's one of the city's largest rental owners.

Media's New Attitude

The guidelines decision was apparently only one of two major breakthroughs for owners. The other was a sudden increase in media coverage of owners' problems.

The November 24 Real Estate Section of The New York Times featured a major article on owners' fuel woes, leading off:

"The heat will go off this winter in thousands of city apartment buildings, according to oil dealers, leaving tenants in the cold and New York in an emergency."

The article made it clear that many owners couldn't provide heat because they had inadequate income. It quoted Jerry Koenigsberg of Sinram-Marnis Oil Co. as stating: "How are they (landlords) going to stay current in their payments if they have a $12,000 or $14,000 fuel bill for a particular month? In many cases the rent rolls produce nowhere near that amount."

Post's Big Story

On November 25, the New York Post gave big play to Joseph Kahn's interview with four industry leaders—Harry B. Helmsley, Ruben Klein, Lewis Rudin and Edward Sulzberger.

Helmsley explained that on five of his large projects his expenses for the first six months of 1974 rose 12.06 percent while gross rents rose only 3.94 percent.

Ruben Klein was quoted as saying: "Up until this point, marginal properties were going down the drain. Now it's major housing. Every piece of property in the city is in trouble. That's why we're here—to tell you the fuel situation has made it impossible to continue."

Parkchester Problem

Community newspapers have also been giving fuller coverage to owners' problems despite their strong tenant orientation. For instance, Paula Gantz, editor of Parkchester News, interviewed Harry Helmsley in the November 21 issue, and reported:

"Harry Helmsley, Parkchester's landlord, stated last week that he was losing money on Parkchester and, in fact, on all his residential properties."

"The Empire State Building is supporting Parkchester," he said from his 42nd St. office...

"Most of my properties aren't even earning their mortgage interest."

The article went on to show that fuel at Parkchester had risen from $769,000 in 1972 to a projected $2,240,000 in 1974, and electricity from $1,900,000 in 1972 to a projected $3,009,000 in 1974.

Television stations have also been doing a comprehensive job. Channel 4 recently ran a week-long series highlighting owners' problems, and owners have also gotten coverage on Channels 2 and 4.

METROPOLITAN POINT OF VIEW

Vacancy Decontrol Study Under Way

BY EDWARD SULZBERGER

A responsible member of the State Assembly is looking into our contention that New York tenants never had it so good as when vacancy decontrol was in effect. Many more improvements actually were made under vacancy decontrol than previously, when full rent control remained in force.

MET long has been an advocate of vacancy decontrol as a truly practical means of phasing out rent control, without penalizing or disturbing tenants-in-occupancy. We insist that a free market is the most certain way to bring about better housing through both upgrading and new construction.

Aiding the Assemblyman in his research, MET is asking property owners to complete brief questionnaires itemizing improvements made in vacancy decontrolled units. We are skeptical, of course, as to how much good such evidence will do in persuading the city to see the light, but it could help in Albany.

The city always has turned a deaf ear toward arguments which favor a free market for rental apartments. Personal politics, it seems, is far more important to our elected leaders than a growing community.

Simple common sense tells one that a man who charges fair prices for his goods or services will look for ways to improve and upgrade his product. When income falls below costs he ultimately must go out of business.

That is what is happening to thousands of apartment buildings in New York. Owners cannot pay their expenses and taxes. Thousands of housing units are being abandoned; buildings are going into tax default; and the city is gradually being destroyed.

Still, political leaders would rather have tenants believe that vacancy decontrol -- a continuous movement to a free market -- didn't work. Increases in some rents carelessly were described as windfall profiteering in all rents. Yet it was only the free market reacting to a scarcity of apartments caused by controls. As more apartments came on the market and property owners competed for tenants, the rents had started to level off to fair market values.

More importantly, property owners were motivated by dollars and cents to make improvements in their buildings. New hope was infused into the city's vital housing sector -- hopes rose, only to be destroyed by the latest rent control law politically labeled the Tenant Protective Act.

The period of vacancy decontrol, 1971-1974, was a brief golden age for New York tenants compared with what we now are going through. The real beneficiaries of vacancy decontrol were not owners, as the politicians would like everyone to think, but tenants who were beginning to receive first-rate service and physical improvements in their buildings.

If you wish to participate in MET's efforts to prove this fact, then write to us at 12 East 41st St. and request the Vacancy Decontrol Questionnaire. With your help we'll take a step to set the record straight.

(Mr. Sulzberger is president of MET, the Metropolitan Fair Rent Committee.)

IS N.Y. HOUSING DOOMED?

Abandonment is spreading like a plague in New York—and virtually nothing is being done about it.

Thousands of buildings are already gone—or in jeopardy—because of soaring fuel costs, taxes and operating expenses, plus new rent controls and bureaucratic oppression.

And it's no longer happening just in Brownsville or the South Bronx. Now it's Ocean Park and the Grand Concourse.

The new wave of abandonment is part of the worst crisis to hit the New York real estate industry since the Great Depression. Most people—developers, lenders, brokers—will emerge unscathed, perhaps a little wiser and more cautious in the future. But for many apartment house owners, there is no future. All signs point to a wipeout.

Tax Arrears Soaring

The first indication of spreading abandonment is unpaid taxes—and they're skyrocketing. The Beame Administration admits that 22 percent of all residential properties are in arrears, and that $460 million is owed.

CHIP chairman William A. Moses maintains the actual figure is much higher. "It's $809 million, when you include non-payment for the most recent quarter, plus a writeoff of $173 million in taxes for 1973 and 1974."

Ruben Klein, president of New York Realty Owners Association, adds: "One out of three

PHOTO BY FINE HOURLY: A building fast as abandonment skyrockets. Replacement costs at least $10,000 per apartment.

NEW YORK HOUSING DOOMED

properties in the Bronx is in default. And the city is carrying on a mass charade by counting the unpaid taxes as assets."

Indeed, HDA Administrator Roger Starr notes in his article in this issue that soaring tax arrears could bring down the city's entire financial structure.

An early sign occurred a few weeks ago when two banks suddenly reneged on a big Tax Anticipation Note sale because the city couldn't give them up-to-the-minute figures on uncollected taxes. When the banks want that kind of information, there's obviously trouble.

It Had Dropped

Abandonment began about nine years ago, when 1943 and 1953 rents could no longer keep pace with rising costs. But it dropped considerably from 1971 to 1973, thanks to vacancy decontrol and a workable MBR program.

Today, with new state rent controls and a less than workable MBR, it's reached new, unprecedented levels.

The city concedes that at least 30,000 units will be abandoned this year, but according to Ruben Klein, "It's going to be a lot more than that." Owners estimate the 1975 figure will be at least 50,000—and if the situation really deteriorates, it could hit 100,000.

Fuel: The Worst

Fuel is easiest the biggest cause of the new wave of abandonment. Prices have doubled and tripled in less than 18 months, so that oil now averages 10 percent or more of the gross income in better buildings and as much as 60 percent in small low-rent buildings.

The city's "solution" is a fuel pass-along that's not only 15 months late, but covers a fraction of actual costs. A recent CHIP survey showed that owners would get only $.69 to $1.09 a room if the present pass-along bill passes. And passage is by no means assured.

So It Spreads

Abandonment is no longer limited to slum-type neighborhoods or even marginal neighborhoods. Fine rentals in the best neighborhoods are going—like a complex at the beginning of Ocean Parkway, and a building at Ditmas Ave. and East 22nd St., two blocks from tree-lined streets with 600,000 homes.

And recently, part of a large Riverdale complex defaulted on its mortgage payments. Says Roger Starr: "We're at the point where a top luxury building could be foreclosed."

Indeed, "abandonment" is temporarily hitting several luxury high-rises under construction, including three being built by well-known builder H.R. Shapiro. One of them—Parc Vendome Tower—is the city's fastest apartment house, an indication of how high abandonment can go.

Klieger's Hearings

This article started out by saying that "virtually nothing" is being done about abandonment. Yet among the politicians and bureaucrats, there are a few courageous individuals who are doing what they can.

For example, Civil Court Judge Bernard Klieger was assigned HDA's suit against CHIP for an alleged boiler shutdown and CHIP's counterclaim for administrative fuel relief. Fed up with delays and cross motions, he ordered a landmark housing hearing, which has elicited important testimony.

Two weeks ago Klieger went on a day-long tour of abandoned and endangered areas in Brooklyn—and independently tour that if he had the power, he would take action.

City Councilman Leon Katz has urged the Council to act on the problem of unpaid taxes, with a program to help owners in arrears. "Arrears are eight times over what they were five years ago," he declared. "It scares the hell out of me."

Elsewhere in officialdom, it's politics as usual. In Albany, the State Legislature is acting like owners are making record profits, and is considering bills to remove first market rents, repeal the Urstadt Law, and impose a wide variety of new controls and restrictions.

"Unless help comes—and quick—there's no hope for the private sector," says Ruben Klein. "The whole city will look like a bombed-out Berlin in 10 years. You'll see block after block of formerly sound housing—vandalized and destroyed amidst rubble-strewn lots."

Adds Bill Moses: "Yes, and then there'll be all sorts of commissions and investigations, and they'll all want to know what went wrong, and why wasn't something done."

"Why don't they ask us NOW! We can tell them what's wrong—and we can tell them what to do about it."

Dear Mr. Watson:

Because of citizen concern I want to make sure that there are no irregularities with the initial contractual arrangements concerning the National Center for Resource Recovery's contract to develop a resource recovery system prior to the elected City Council's term in office.

A number of issues and questions have arisen concerning the initial contract signed by the National Center for Resource Recovery, Inc. (NCRR) in 1974. Specifically:

- . Was the initial request for a design for a solid waste system proposal competitive? Who submitted proposals and on what basis?
- . Was NCRR permitted to review the proposals for a resource recovery system? If so, was this ethical?
- . Did the District of Columbia provide for open bidding in the development of a resource recovery system as other communities have done? If this was not the case, why?

- Were resource recovery systems other than a 650 ton per day type, which was contracted as a sole source by NCRR, considered?

I am requesting that your office initiate an audit of the procedures used in awarding the contract to the NCRR to develop a resource recovery system to be built at Lorton, Virginia. It is important to assure citizens that the initial request for proposal was both ethical and legal.

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL MANPOWER PRACTITIONERS IN REGION III

FROM: Mary E. Weatherspoon, Vice-President [Signature]

SUBJECT: Regional Manpower Conference on June 5-6, 1975

The Mid-Atlantic Manpower Planners Association will sponsor its 3rd quarterly conference on June 5-6, 1975, at the Hilton Hotel, Virginia Beach, Virginia. Both the meeting and membership in the association are open to all persons professionally involved in manpower in Region III (Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia).

A program has been developed to include presentations by eminent public officials such as: The Honorable Maurice B. Rowe, Secretary of Administration, State of Virginia; Messrs. J.B. Archer, Regional Director, U.S. Department of Labor (USDOL); Pierce A. Quinlan, Associate Manpower Administrator, Manpower Administration, Washington, D.C.; William Heartwell, Commissioner, State of Virginia Employment Commission; Austin Sullivan, U.S. Congressional Staff; Dick Johnson, House Education and Labor Committee. Various panels and workshops are planned to include staff and participants from the National League of Cities, National Association of Counties, National Governor's Conference and the United States Department of Labor.

Themes are developed around the following topics:

"Partnership of the Department of Labor and Local Government"

"CETA - Overview One-Year Later"

"How the Administration Views CETA and other Manpower Programs"

"Erosion of Local Control of Prime Sponsors"

"How Prime Sponsors Should Channel Efforts to Congressmen"

"Public Interest Groups"

"The Congressional Committee View of CETA"

"Apprenticeship and CETA"

"New Reports for Fiscal Year 1976"

"Legislative Basis and Use of Discretionary Money"

"Fiscal Management" and

"Employment Service and CETA."

The program will be hosted by the Henrico-Chesterfield-Hanover Manpower Planning Council (Consortium). Enclosed are the conference agenda and information regarding accommodations at the Hilton Hotel, Ocean at 8th Street, telephone (804) 428-8936, where the conference is being held. Please make your hotel and airline reservations immediately to insure your accommodations. Reservation forms should be returned to the Hilton Hotel by May 25, 1975.

There will be a fifteen ($15.00) registration fee to cover conference costs which includes coffee, danish, lunch and the Happy Hour on Thursday, June 5, 1975.

Since it is difficult to obtain an up-to-date mailing list of persons involved in manpower in the Region, we ask that you share the enclosed material with others in your area and encourage their attendance.

Agenda for the Legislative Session

Please insert on Tuesday, May 27th's legislative session agenda the Bill to eliminate architectural barriers to the handicapped and the aged on newly constructed buildings or substantially remodeled ones in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Clinton Williams
912 Westminster Street N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear Mr. Williams:

I made an inquiry to the Corporation Council pursuant to our telephone conversation of May 19, 1975 concerning damages to your automobile while it was in the protective custody of the D.C. Metropolitan Police during your term in prison.

According to Mr. David G. Harper of the Corporation Council you should write a claim letter for damages done to your automobile and file it with the Corporation Council. This should be done within six months after the car has been damaged. The Corporation Council will then initiate an investigation and make the award for damages according to their findings.

If you are not satisfied with the findings of the Corporation Council then you could initiate a case in the Small Claims Court to obtain compensation for damages. However, in order to bring the District Government before the Small Claims Court it is necessary to go through the administrative procedures first and seek a remedy.

I hope this information will be of some help.

Dear Mr. Winters:

Thank you for your letter of May 14, 1975 concerning the proposed gross receipts tax. The City Council has given its partial approval of the tax when the Revenue Act of 1975 came up for a first reading on April 15, 1975. In its approval on the first vote the Council exempted such items as food, rents, and non-prescription drugs from the gross receipts tax.

I do not anticipate a final vote by the Council on the entire revenue act until after the budget differences with the Mayor have been settled. When the Revenue Act of 1975 comes up for a final reading, I will keep your views on the gross receipts tax in mind.

Honorable Julius W. Hobson, Sr.
Council of the District of Columbia
District Building Fifth Floor
14th and E Streets, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mr. Hobson:

It is our understanding that the Committee on Finance and Revenue of the Council of the District of Columbia has proposed a decrease from 6 percent to 4 percent in the sales tax levied on receipts from furnishing accommodations to transients, sales of alcoholic beverages and sales of food for human consumption on the selling premises. The Committee also has proposed an increase in the gross receipts exempted from the proposed gross receipts tax from $26,000 to $260,000.

On behalf of the Washington, D. C. Retail Liquor Dealers Association, Inc. (the "Association"), I submit this memorandum to request that, as an alternative to the above, retail liquor stores and liquor wholesalers be excluded from the proposed gross receipts tax and that, in conjunction with that exclusion, the present 6 percent sales tax on sales of alcoholic beverages by retail liquor stores remain at its present level. The Association believes, as shown below, that a larger amount of revenues will be generated for the District of Columbia by the continued use of the 6 percent sales tax, in combination with the exclusion of retail liquor stores from the proposed gross receipts tax, than would be provided by reduction of the sales tax to 4 percent and the inclusion of retail liquor stores and wholesale liquor dealers within the businesses subject to the proposed gross receipts tax.

The correctness of the Association's position that District revenues will be higher

The Association's proposal is presented to the Council for two reasons: First, in the interest of increasing the District's revenue and, second, to preserve the competitive position of its members, the retail liquor industry in general, with liquor retailers in the suburban Virginia and Maryland jurisdictions.

If the Association's proposal is rejected, liquor retailers in the District will find it necessary to increase the prices shown on merchandise tickets, and to show in advertisements, which ordinarily circulate to jurisdictions other than the District, higher prices per item than had formerly been advertised. It is the Association's view that the result of such changes will be a loss of customers to jurisdictions in which marked prices have not increased and in which excise taxes are much lower, e.g., $1.50 per gallon in Prince Georges County, Maryland, as compared to $2.00 per gallon in the District.

The customers of District liquor retailers are accustomed to the 6 percent sales tax, and it is likely that continued imposition of the sales tax at that rate would not adversely affect the level of sales in the District. Changes in the prices shown on tickets or in advertising, by contrast, probably will result in a deflection of a significant number of sales from the District to outlying areas. Such a result would be particularly detrimental to the many minority-owned liquor stores (approximately 105 or one-third of total stores) in the District, many of which are now only marginally profitable enterprises.

It is important to note that the figures for the first quarter of 1975 show a decrease in gallonage sales of spirits of 61,000 gallons as compared with the first quarter of 1974, resulting in a loss of revenue to the District of Columbia of close to $200,000 during this period. As you undoubtedly know, gallonage sales in 1974 were 217,000 less than in 1973. Thus, the downward trend has continued. It is clearly vital to the industry and to the District of Columbia that this trend be halted.

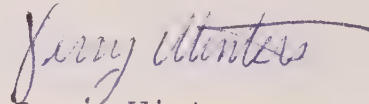

The alternative which the Association herein presents to the Council is compellingly more attractive as a revenue-raising measure than the proposal which is presently before the Council. In addition, the ability of retail liquor stores to retain or increase their present levels of sales will be enhanced if the Association's alternative proposal is accepted. For the foregoing reasons, the Association respectfully requests that the Council adopt the proposal contained herein.

If the above proposal is unacceptable, the alternative of the reduced sales tax and the increased exemption to $260,000 still is essential to preservation of the liquor industry in the District of Columbia.

Sincerely yours,

May 6, 1975

Dear Mr. Hobson:

On Sunday, May 11, Mother's Day, the Voices of Expressions is hosting a benefit with the proceeds going to the United Negro College Fund entitled "EBONY SOUNDS--Then and Now." You and your family are cordially invited to attend this family program, which will consist of a history of black music at Howard University's Crampton Auditorium beginning at 5p.m.

We have enclosed (2) complimentary ticket(s) for you because we know of your high regard for education and the need for community assistance to our young and poor of the Washington, DC area. We also hope that by the visible support your presence will lend, it will encourage the community to help our efforts in maintaining the more than 48,000 students who attend our 41 member colleges and universities, schools which are still providing 70 percent of our countries black professionals.

It will be an honor for us if you bring your family. I am sure they will have an enjoyable evening of entertainment. The program will consist of performances by the Voices of Expressions, the John Malachi Trio, the Young Senators and the Oya African Dancers.

Tickets for additional members of your family or friends may be purchased at Building 922 at 922 Kennedy Street, NW, Cow's Outside at 2412 1/2 Eighteenth Street, NW, Dusty Roads Boutique at 506 Eleventh Street, SE, Gerri's International at Waterside Mall, SW, Soul Shack at 1221 "G" Street, NW or you may purchase tickets at Crampton Auditorium on Mother's Day.

Thanks for your support in the past and we hope to see you this Sunday.

Dear Sheila:

Enclosed are several rough copies of draft legislation to eliminate architectural barriers to the handicapped and aged. The essential thrust of the bill requires that all newly constructed buildings or substantially remodeled ones be designed to eliminate architectural impediments for the handicapped.

I would appreciate any comments which you or other members of the D.C. Chapter of the National Association of the Physically Handicapped wish to make. Please understand that this bill is a draft. Mr. Hobson wants to introduce legislation to eliminate architectural barriers before the August recess and would greatly appreciate any input you could provide.

Also please find enclosed copies of correspondence with regard to building a handicapped ramp at the District Building which may be of interest.

Amendment to Appropriation Act of 1975 calling for a 90 day delay before expending or committing any funds for the construction of a resource recovery system.

In their report on the Fiscal Year 1976 Budget adopted on April 29, 1975, the City Council approved $9.6 million for a resource recovery system. However, the approval was based on an understanding that the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Environmental Services would consult with the Federal Energy Agency and the United States Environmental Protection Agency to gain additional information on new resource recovery systems and obtain technical assistance. To this end the Mayor is to report to the Council within 90 days after the date of adoption of the FY 76 Appropriations Act on the results of the consultation..." In addition, no part of the $9.6 million will be expended or committed and no contract concluded by the District for a resource recovery system until the Council has reviewed the Mayor's report.

Legally when does the 90 day period begin? When does the period end?

Office of the District of Columbia Auditor
Room 936 - The Munsey Building
1329 E Street, Northwest
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mr. Watson:

Thank you for your response of June 12, 1975. However, there are several questions concerning the contractual arrangements among the District of Columbia, the Council of Governments, and the National Center for Resource Recovery, Inc. (NCRR) that remain unclear.

Specifically with regard to the District's role in the contractual proceedings with the National Center for Resource Recovery:

- . When was the initial request for proposal on recycling urban waste issued? Where did it originate? Who drafted the request?
- . According to an article in the Washington Star News (see the enclosure), 52 companies received a request for proposal. How many of them responded? What specific companies submitted proposals? What person or organization within the District Government or outside it, reviewed these responses?
- . What process was involved in authorizing the District to approve the contract made by the Waste Management Agency of the Council of Governments with the National Center for Resource Recovery for the feasibility studies. Was there money budgeted for the District to participate in undertaking this project through C.O.G.?

- . Has the District of Columbia entered into any separate contracts with the National Center for Resource Recovery. If so, what was the nature and purpose of that contract? When was it consummated? If made prior to January 1, 1975, did the contract comply with the Federal Procurement regulations? Was the contract given requisite public notice?

With respect to the Council of Government's role:

- . Did C.O.G. put out a competitive bid for the resource recovery feasibility study that was submitted to the City Council as the basic support document to justify funding the proposed resource recovery facility at Lorton, Virginia?
- . In the field of resource recovery there are a number of organizations who are equally competent. Did C.O.G. go for a sole source contract with the National Center for Resource Recovery rather than procuring a contract on a competitive basis? Who was the chairman of the Waste Management Agency at the time the contract with the National Center for Resource Recovery was concluded? Is it ethical for a responsible D.C. official to approve a contract which was made on a sole source basis?
- . In addition to the C.O.G. contract have any other contracts been made with the National Center for Resource Recovery?

The Council is working under a 90 day extension period before any work on the project can begin, and we therefore request a response as soon as possible. If we can help in any way please contact my office. I will be happy to cooperate in any way.

Sincerely,

Julius W. Hobson

Washington, D. C. 20004

Dear Mr. Hobson:

This letter is in response to your letter of May 2, 1975, in which you requested that we obtain information concerning the city's contracting for a resource recovery system.

We have made inquiries to the appropriate personnel at the Department of Environmental Services, the Council of Governments and the Waste Management Agency. To date the city has not entered into any contracts for this system. Contracts for feasibility studies were made by the Waste Management Agency, a subsidiary of C.O.G., with the National Center for Resource Recovery. These contracts did not result in designs from which a plant could be built, but provided merely planning documents.

→ { At the present time, the Department of Environmental Services is preparing to seek a design contractor to prepare plans for the project. It is most unlikely that the National Center for Resource Recovery will even be considered for the forthcoming Architect-Engineer Contract or the construction contract which will follow.

I will try to monitor the contracting process as it proceeds and keep you advised of developments.

Washington Planning Workshop

WHY

In 1968, the Washington Metropolitan Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, because of many problems voiced by community organizations, decided to become involved in the community planning process. To assist these organizations in resolving some of their problems, the Chapter established "The Washington Planning Workshop." The Chapter's effort was joined by the American Institute of Planners, the American Society of Professional Engineers, the local schools of architecture and planning as well as a number of community organizations.

In many inner city areas, local groups are critical of many past and present planning programs and projects. However, they are often unable to generate positive actions which bring concrete results.

To assist in self-determination, the Washington Planning Workshop is providing local community groups with technical assistance necessary to help citizens provide a firm input into local planning and housing agencies as well as institutions and private developers.

PURPOSES

To provide free architectural and physical planning services to those unable to obtain them in the usual way.

To stimulate professional architects' and planners' involvement in community change.

To assist citizens in evaluating concepts and programs related to renovating local neighborhoods.

To develop and direct community support for comprehensive planning efforts.

To provide professional project teams for surveys, zoning investigations, feasibility studies and research into low-income housing concepts.

WHAT

The Washington Planning Workshop is a realistic mechanism by which architectural and planning professions can help community organizations become an integral part of the planning process as well as an effective voice within the local government structure. The effectiveness of such groups in carrying out their community action programs can be greatly increased with the availability of the technical assistance provided by the Washington Planning Workshop.

WHERE

The services of the Workshop can be requested by any representative group within the inner city areas or by any other group in the Washington Metropolitan area which cannot obtain funds for architectural fees.

HOW

The Washington Planning Workshop will assist citizens in developing the necessary documents to illustrate their own goals. This assistance may range from developing options for a housing problem, to conducting surveys, to designing community spaces or neighborhood parks. No charge will be made for architectural services provided. Requests in writing should be addressed to the Washington Planning Workshop, 2451 18th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009.

Washington Planning Workshop

WHY

In 1968, the Washington Metropolitan Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, because of many problems voiced by community organizations, decided to become involved in the community planning process. To assist these organizations in resolving some of their problems, the Chapter established "The Washington Planning Workshop." The Chapter's effort was joined by the American Institute of Planners, the American Society of Professional Engineers, the local schools of architecture and planning as well as a number of community organizations.

In many inner city areas, local groups are critical of many past and present planning programs and projects. However, they are often unable to generate positive actions which bring concrete results.

To assist in self-determination, the Washington Planning Workshop is providing local community groups with technical assistance necessary to help citizens provide a firm input into local planning and housing agencies as well as institutions and private developers.

PURPOSES

To provide free architectural and physical planning services to those unable to obtain them in the usual way.

To stimulate professional architects' and planners' involvement in community change.

To assist citizens in evaluating concepts and programs related to renovating local neighborhoods.

To develop and direct community support for comprehensive planning efforts.

To provide professional project teams for surveys, zoning investigations, feasibility studies and research into low-income housing concepts.

WHAT

The Washington Planning Workshop is a realistic mechanism by which architectural and planning professions can help community organizations become an integral part of the planning process as well as an effective voice within the local government structure. The effectiveness of such groups in carrying out their community action programs can be greatly increased with the availability of the technical assistance provided by the Washington Planning Workshop.

WHERE

The services of the Workshop can be requested by any representative group within the inner city areas or by any other group in the Washington Metropolitan area which cannot obtain funds for architectural fees.

HOW

The Washington Planning Workshop will assist citizens in developing the necessary documents to illustrate their own goals. This assistance may range from developing options for a housing problem, to conducting surveys, to designing community spaces or neighborhood parks. No charge will be made for architectural services provided. Requests in writing should be addressed to the Washington Planning Workshop, 2451 18th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009.

Mr. Sterling Tucker, Chairman
Council of the District of Columbia
District Building, 5th Floor
14th & "E" Streets, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mr. Tucker:

The Washington Area Construction Industry Task Force wishes to commend the Council of the District of Columbia for superlative efforts of the Committee on Employment and Economic Development.

As you probably know, the Washington Area Construction Industry Task Force (WACITF) is comprised of thirty-three concerned community organizations, and is keenly interested in and supportive of those actions of the Council which enhance opportunities for local minority contractors.

We believe that the concepts, language and intent of the proposed "Minority Contracting Act of 1975" will go a long way in insuring that minority entrepreneurs participate in a meaningful way in the future development of our local economy.

We therefore urge the unanimous support of all members of the Council for this important legislation.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Mary E. Weatherspoon
Chairperson

Request for partition

This is a request for a partition, similar to the one behind Sherry Friedman, to shield some of the draft from the hallway and the central air conditioning. The constant draft here where I sit is beginning to affect me physically.

Thank you for your assistance in this urgent matter.

Dear Mr. Hobson,

I am writing this letter because you have the reputation for getting things that are wrong straighten out.

I want to report to you a daily theft occurring at Department of Human Resources, Office of Inspection and Program Analysis, Fair Hearings Division, 8th floor, 500 First Street, NW.

There is a honky named Mr Donald Rathburn who works for James Horton as a hearing examiner. This man comes in late every day, takes at least 2 hours for lunch and leaves at 4 PM daily. This man does not work but 20 hours a week and is getting paid for 40 hours. He is stealing government time and most of all he is stealing time from the Public Assistance clients who he is supposed to be working for. With the tight job market today, I am sure there are many men who would be willing to work a full 40 hour week.

This honky is never charged leave by Mr Horton for coming in late or leaving early. Mr Rathburn always claims that he had to stop and see someone in another office before coming to work. I have checked with my girlfriends and they have never seen him. Also he always claims he has to see someone before quitting time. Mr Horton never questions him. Why among all the examiners is he the only one who has to see people??????

Mr Rathburn drives a new dart (light brown with Va tags BHA 822). He bribes the PMI parking lot attendants to lie about the time he comes and leaves.

I am not asking you to take my word for this. There are enough investigators in the building that in just one week everything I had stated can be confirmed. Please have someone look into this. He is very easy to identify as he is a big fat slob of a honky and an extreme racist.

Very truly yours

Geraldine Wilson

Thank you for your letter concerning the depositing of city funds into local financial institutions. The City Council will give the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association every consideration when legislation is enacted in this area.

The multiple myeloma remains in remission and I am doing quite well. I appreciate your concern for my well being.

Washington, D. C. 20004

Dear Mr. Hobson:

As you may know I am one of the organizers of Community Federal Savings and Loan Association. I am a member of the Board of Directors. This Savings and Loan Association which is located at 19th and K Streets has a biracial Board. It has disbursed approximately $3,500,000 in loans during its fourteen months of existence and approximately 85% is to individuals in the inner-City. Its unique goal is to make loans available to residents of the District of Columbia to encourage home ownership and to help revitalize this City.

It would greatly help us in our efforts to serve the residents of this City if this Savings and Loan were included as a Depository of City Funds. We can provide services for pension and retirement funds. We can maintain time deposits for the period of time required for City Funds.

I hope that we shall receive the City Council's consideration when legislation is enacted that pertains to the placement of City Funds in financial institutions.

It was certainly gratifying to me to see that you achieved a remission from the course of chemotherapy that was given for the multiple myeloma. I hope that you have continued to do well.

Kindest personal regards to you and to Mrs. Hobson.

Sincerely yours,

COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20004

October 17, 1975

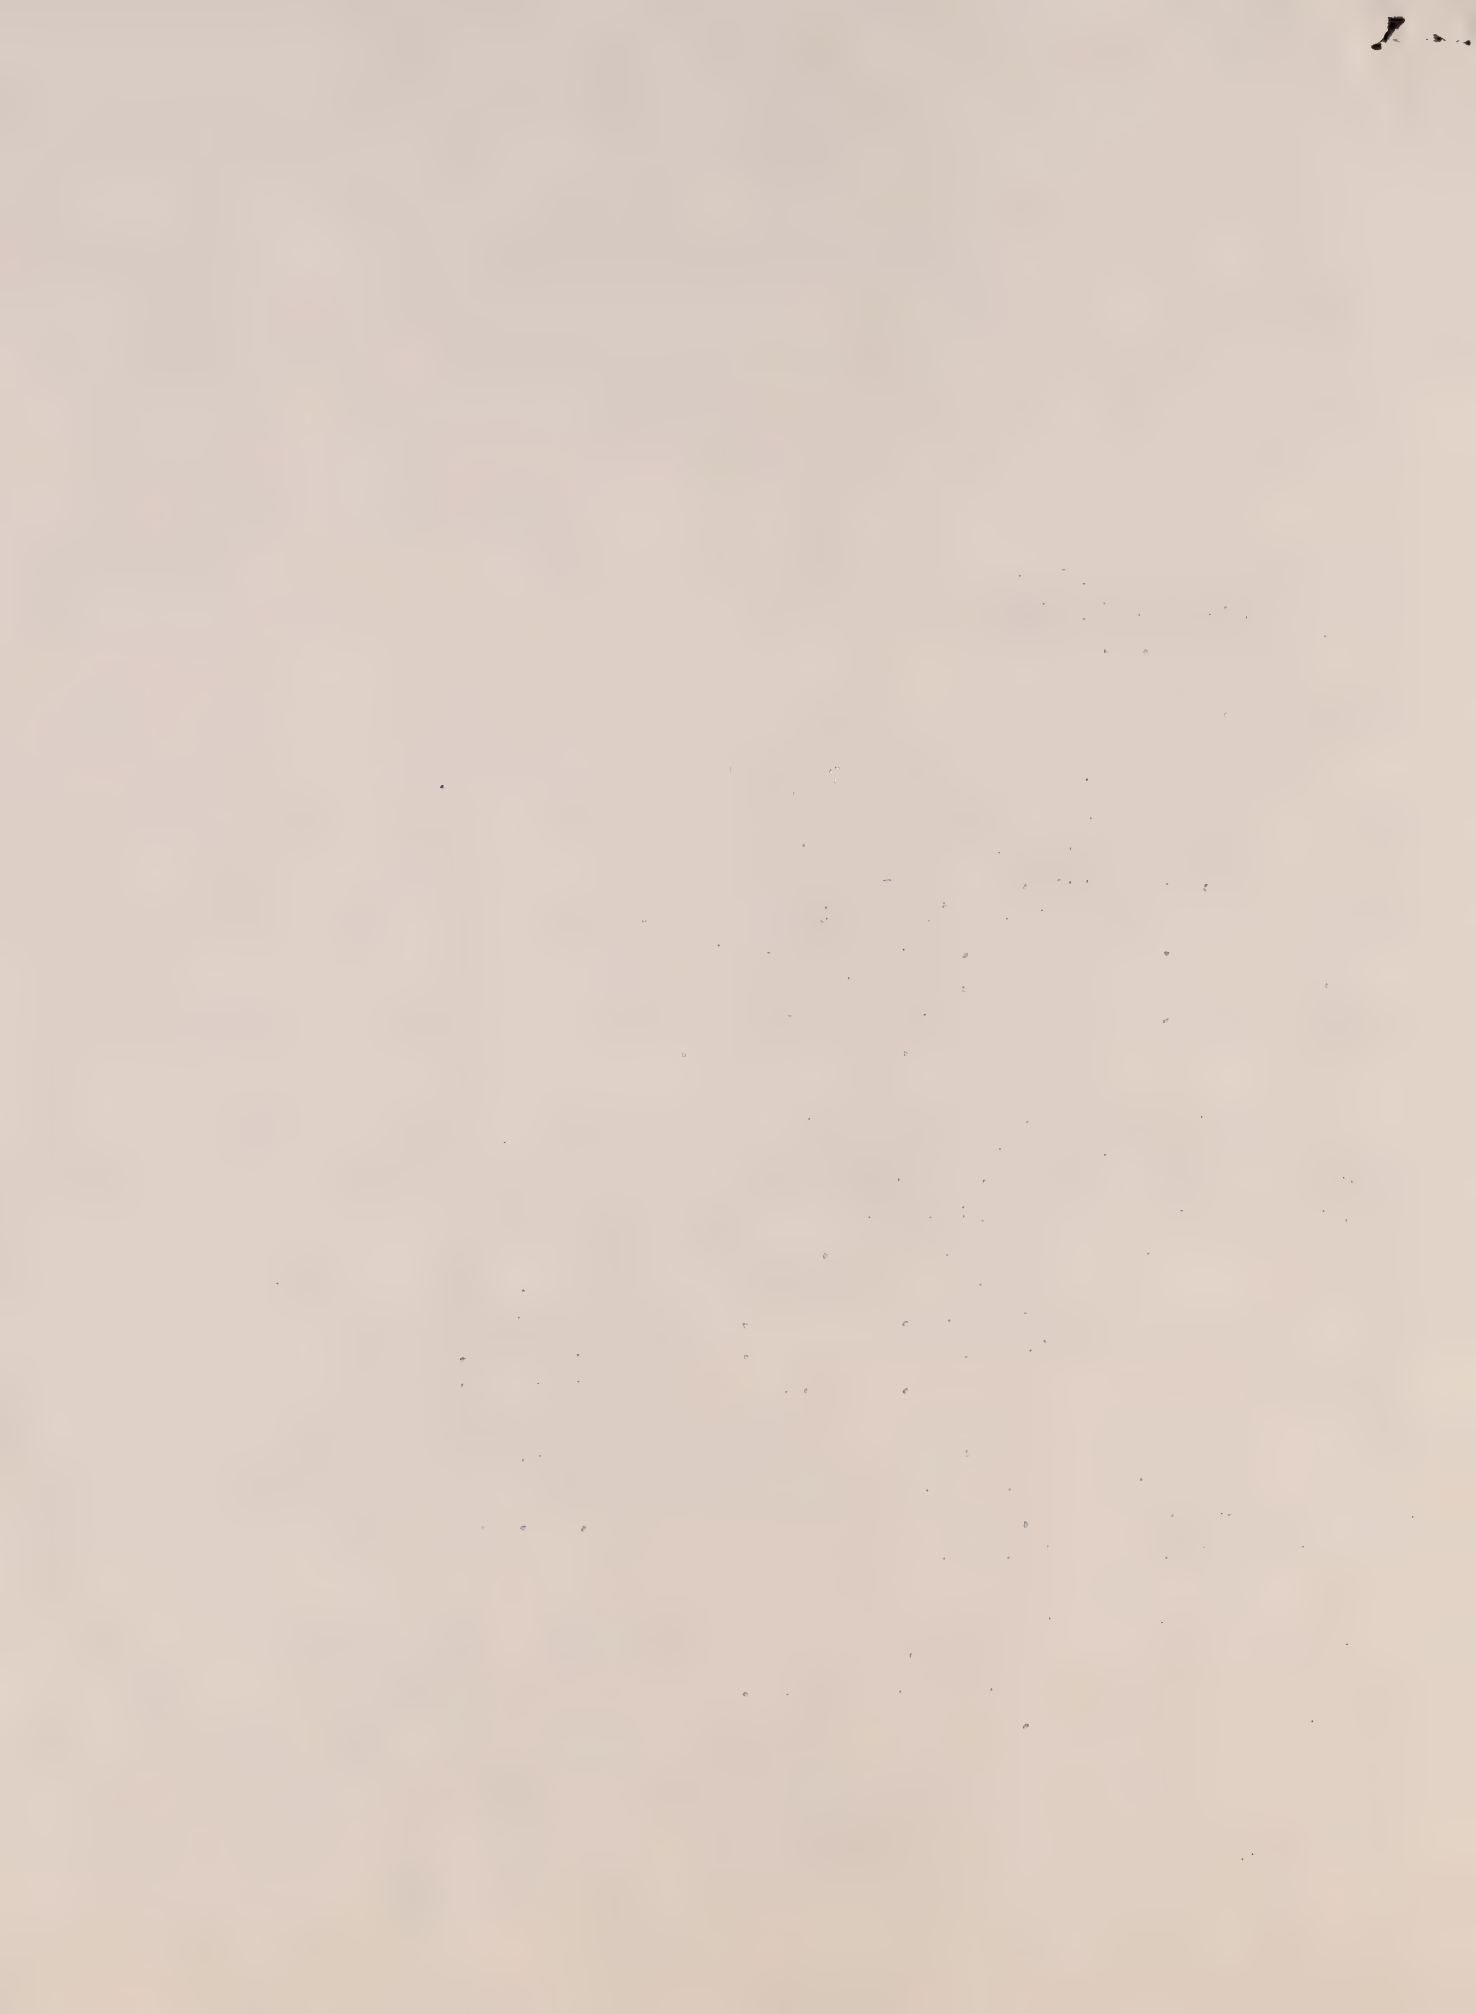

The Honorable Julius Hobson
The District Building
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Julius:

As you are probably aware, Sursum Corda, Inc. is a non-profit corporation initially established in 1966 through the combined efforts of community institutions and Georgetown University, to provide low-cost housing for families displaced in Washington's Northwest No. 1 Urban Renewal Project Area. In 1966, with extensive community involvement in planning and design, Sursum Corda, Inc. constructed Sursum Corda, an innovative 199-unit housing community which is now the home of over 1,100 people.

Anticipating the need to complement the various housing communities in the neighborhood with a facility containing space for programs which would meet the urgent educational, social and recreational needs of the community, the residents of the Northwest No. 1 Urban Renewal Project Area formed the Sursum Corda Neighborhood Council, comprised of leaders from every church, school, housing development and community institution in the area. The Council, working closely with Sursum Corda, Inc., is now proceeding with its long-standing goal of constructing a Neighborhood Center. To meet the wide spectrum of community needs, the Sursum Corda Neighborhood Center will be constructed in the heart of the Northwest No. 1 area on "H" Street, N.W., just west of North Capitol Street.

The proposed Neighborhood Center has been supported during the several years of its planning and development by community and government agencies. Funding for the Neighborhood Center, like every other aspect of Sursum Corda's experience, has been a cooperative and determined effort. A 21-member Resource Development Committee has been formed to raise funds for construction of the Center. The members of the Resource Development Committee represent national corporations and organizations, the Washington business community, elementary and higher education institutions, Washington community development activists, and city political leaders, including myself.

A number of substantial financial grants and commitments have been made from both the public and private sectors. Basic funding has been committed by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Model Cities Corporation, the Archdiocese of Washington, the Metropolitan Police Boys' Club, the District Government's Department of Housing and Community Development, private foundations, and the residents of Sursum Corda.

To date a total of $1.4 million of the $2 million cost of the Center has been raised. The Resource Development Committee is now working to cover the last leg by raising the $600,000 needed to complete the construction costs of the Center.

In an effort to develop additional sources of funding to raise the remainder of the money needed to complete the Center, the Resource Development Committee is holding a luncheon for potential financiers. This luncheon is being held on Wednesday, October 22, 1975 at 11:30 a.m. in the Mayflower Hotel. Approximately 100 persons, primarily from Washington's real estate and banking community, are expected to attend.

To show the city's full support for the concept and implementation of the Sursum Corda Neighborhood Development Center, I am asking that you -- your schedule permitting -- be my guest at this luncheon.

Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind Regards,

John A. Wilson, Ward 2

Dear Councilman Hobson:

We need your help desperately. Otherwise, the Reverend Hosea Williams, eighteen-year civil rights veteran, will have to serve some five years in prison.

On Thursday, September 25, 1975, Reverend Williams was arrested for the 100th time by the Fulton County, Georgia sheriff on a warrant issued by the county's district attorney (Lewis Slaton). Alledging some traffic violations, the D.A. got the GRAND JURY to indict Reverend Williams on a FELONY charge.

Please believe us, this whole matter is very serious. The Georgia law that Reverend Williams was indicted under requires that if convicted he serve from one to five years in the penitentiary. The statute does not allow for a suspended sentence, probation, or a fine.

His only hope for not being sent to prison is to wage an all-out, national legal war. In order to do this, we must raise money....lots of money. Our lawyers have set a minimum budget of $25,000 to: 1) appeal the original conviction; 2) have the 1972 law declared unconstitutional; 3) have the grand jury's indictment thrown out; 4) present psychiatric data on racial identification; 5) hire a special trial lawyer; and 6) prepare for federal court if convicted.

Will you contribute? Will you get your friends to contribute to the "LEGAL DEFENSE FUND TO FREE REVEREND HOSEA WILLIAMS?" Checks can be sent to:

"THE REVEREND HOSEA WILLIAMS DEFENSE FUND"

While the grand jury of 23 included only one Black (in a county that is 40% Black), Reverend Williams maintains his conviction is not based solely on race, but rather on his attempt to keep the true legacy of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. alive.

The conspiracy to silence this civil rights champion by sending him to prison for five years is very, very serious. First, a racist Georgia judge permanently revoked Reverend Williams' driver's license, using a Georgia law passed in 1972, which allowed the judge to make use of all traffic violations committed by Reverend Williams since 1962 (ten years). They researched every city, town, and hamlet this man ever led a civil rights demonstration in (which numbers in the hundreds). The judge even used five traffic violations for which Reverend Williams' license was suspended back in 1969 (constituting double jeopardy).

Secondly, the district attorney held a secret investigation and got the grand jury to indict Reverend Williams on a felony charge, using an allegation that had been thoroughly investigated by the Atlanta Police Department and dropped due to the lack of evidence.

Thirdly, if convicted of a felony Reverend Williams will lose his seat in the Georgia Legislature. This may be the major reason for the indictment, because Reverend Williams has been leading the fight against annexation of Atlanta - which would reduce the Black vote from 60% to a mere 35%, assuring the defeat of Atlanta's brilliant, young Black political leader, Mayor Maynard Jackson.

Contributions should be sent immediately because the district attorney is definitely forcing an early arraignment date in order to prevent the lawyers from having ample time to prepare and file the necessary motions to give Reverend Williams adequate defense (all motions must be filed before arraignment).

The lawyers are requiring $15,000 up-front money and $5,000 expense money to be placed in escrow before taking Reverend Williams case. Your kind and prompt consideration of this request will certainly advance the struggle for human dignity for all mankind.

Sincerely,

Dear Brother Hobson:

Words are inadequate to express my deep thanks and appreciation to you for your recent contribution in the amount of $10.00 towards my defense fund.

You will never know how encouraging it is to know that I have your support in this latest struggle. As you already know, this is not an attack upon me personally but part of a larger attack against Black people as a whole, and Black leaders in particular.

To bring you up to date on how your contribution will be used, my only hope for not being sent to prison and losing my seat in the Georgia Legislature is to wage an all-out, national legal war. In order to do this, we must raise money....lots of money. And you have helped us to achieve that goal.

Again, thank you for your kindness, and I pray for your continued support.

AFRO-AMERICAN PATROLMEN'S LEAGUE SUPPORTS HOSEA WILLIAMS

"The AFRO-AMERICAN PATROLMEN'S LEAGUE fully supports the Reverend Hosea L. Williams in his fight to defend himself against FELONY charges on an alleged traffic violation. We believe these charges are the result of deliberate political persecution and we are proud to come to his defense.

We feel that the Fulton County District Attorney Slaton's attempt to prosecute Reverend Hosea L. Williams on traffic violations spanning some ten years is an unequal application of the law. We are sending a letter to the District Attorney that outlines our discontent with this case's lack of evidence and disregard of the officer's report that could not place Reverend Hosea Williams at the scene.

Further, the AFRO-AMERICAN PATROLMEN'S LEAGUE will donate a financial contribution to the Reverend Hosea Williams' Defense Fund, and we encourage all right-thinking Atlantans - both Black and white - to come to his defense.

To see that Reverend Hosea Williams is not immobilized by these efforts to discredit his fine contributions to Atlanta, the AFRO-AMERICAN PATROLMEN'S LEAGUE has established a volunteer motor pool. We will provide transportation for Reverend Williams during our off-duty hours. This case should never have come before the Grand Jury. Yet, the Grand Jury has indicted him, and he has been arraigned. If convicted, Reverend Hosea Williams could be jailed up to five years.

We hope our support points out the grave dangers of selective application of this 1972 Georgia Statute. The upcoming trial is very serious and important to the Black community and Black leadership.

To defeat this injustice Reverend Hosea Williams will need some $50,000 for technical support and research to his fine legal team of City Councilman Marvin Arrington; Al Horn, long-time Chairman of the ACLU Board, and Attorney Howard Moore.

We applaud the Reverend Hosea Williams for not making this a racially diversive campaign and continuing in the best tradition of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Let us not allow the voice of Reverend Hosea Williams to be stilled. For, if they come to take him away, who will be there to stop them from taking all of us.

Historically, most Black police have been used as a tool by the super-rich, white power structure to repress; brutalize; jail and even convict some civil rights leaders on trumped-up charges. Black police of Atlanta's AFRO-AMERICAN PATROLMEN'S LEAGUE changed that when they issued a public statement saying:

"We took an oath to uphold the law, and that's exactly what we are going to do.....for the poor, as well as for the rich; and for the Black, as well as for the white. We are especially concerned about the repression of our Black leaders. We are convinced 1975 is very much like 1875....there is a definite, organized conspiracy to eliminate Black leaders. We are going to protect our leaders, starting with Rev. Hosea Williams.

Mr. Thomas A. Wilkins
Administrator
Department of Manpower
500 C Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear Mr. Wilkins:

I am increasingly concerned with the serious unemployment of youth in the District. At this time there are an estimated 20,000 young people 22 years and under, approximately 15 percent of the youth population, currently without jobs and seeking full or part time employment. In addition, we have nearly 8,000 youth graduating from or leaving school next June who will be in need of jobs. Youth from outside the District will enter the city seeking employment as well. It is inexcusable for us to permit an estimated 4,000 young people looking for permanent jobs to idly roam the streets as unemployment statistics next year without maximum effort on all our parts to provide sufficient employment opportunities.

Therefore, I am asking you the following questions now to evaluate the quality and effectiveness of our services and to find out what we can do to improve the current and prospective unemployment picture:

1. During FY 75, what were the total funds available earmarked for youth employment training and services? What portion of these funds were appropriated and what portion were federal grant funds?

2. Were all available funds expended? What was the amount of grant funds, earmarked for youth, not spent during FY 75? Were any such funds used to subsidize non-disadvantaged temporary employees or the purchase of equipment not related to youth services?

3. How many individual youths were assisted under these programs?

4. How many individual youths achieved unsubsidized employment? Of the total placements made by the employment service, what percentage were youths?

5. What was the average hourly wage of youths placed under all programs?

In addition, I would like copies of the following reports:

Monthly year to date (June 1975)

It was found that the above described conditions of the test were not sufficient to produce a significant increase in the number of cells in the S phase of the cell cycle. The results of the test are shown in the following table:

1. The first of these is the fact that the majority of the population of the United States is now living in urban areas. This is a result of the process of urbanization, which has been going on since the beginning of the 20th century. The process of urbanization is the movement of people from rural areas to urban areas. This movement is caused by a number of factors, including the search for better living conditions, the desire for education, and the need for employment. The process of urbanization has led to the growth of large cities and the decline of small towns. This has had a significant impact on the economy and society. The majority of the population now lives in urban areas, which are characterized by a high density of people and a high level of economic activity. This has led to the development of a new type of economy, which is based on the services sector. The services sector is the part of the economy that provides services to other parts of the economy. This sector has become the dominant part of the economy in most developed countries. The growth of the services sector has led to the decline of the manufacturing sector. This has had a significant impact on the economy and society. Mr. Julius W. Hobson, Sr.
D.C. City Council

Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mr. Hobson:

Annually in February, D.C. Tots and Teens, Inc. devotes a series of activities to the enrichment of our knowledge and appreciation of the black contribution to the Development of our nation. We would like our bicentennial year program to be an exceptional experience for our youth. We are greatly impressed with the large reservoir of persons in our capital city who have made significant contributions to the development and progress of America. However, we deeply regret our children's lack of opportunity to meet, know and appreciate the achievements of many black Americans so near and yet so remote.

Tots and Teens, Inc. is a national, non-profit organization of families organized in 1954 for the purpose of providing our youth with a variety of cultural and intellectual experiences. Youth participants range in age from preschool to eighteen years. The theme of our program is "Bicentennial and Black Americans". To quote from a great black leader of another era, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune:

"I leave you finally a responsibility to our young people. The world around us really belongs to youth, for youth will take over its future management. Our children must never lose their zeal for building a better world. They must not be discouraged from aspiring toward greatness, for they are to be the leaders of tomorrow..."

You are invited to join a "revolving panel" at which guests may come and leave as they see fit. A 10-15 minute appearance will permit you a brief statement and time for questions from the audience. Most important, our children will have met face to face with those of their race who have made history and are guiding our destiny at this time. //

The program is scheduled for Saturday, February 14, 1976, from 1:30 - 3:00 p.m. at Howard University. We will involve as many children as possible, mostly pre-teen and teenage representing all economic levels. //

This program is an officially recognized event of the D.C. Bicentennial Commission and Rev. Dr. Knighton Stanley has consented to be the moderator.

We would be more than pleased if you would stay for the reception and meet with the audience. We will contact you by phone to arrange a specific time. It is our sincere hope that you will join us.

Mr. Matthew Watson

Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mr. Watson:

I introduced the District of Columbia Statehood Act (Bill 1-1776) before the City Council several months ago. The bill was sent to the Committee of the Whole and will be the topic of a public hearing on Monday, April 26, 1976. I have enclosed both the bill and the public hearing notice for your information. The bill received wide support from Council members upon its introduction, evidenced by the fact that only one Councilmember failed to cosponsor the legislation with me.

The hearing on April 26, will begin the public debate on the merits of statehood for the District of Columbia. An important part of that hearing and any future discussion on statehood will be an understanding of the fiscal impact of statehood on the District in terms of the present and future federal payment, the reliability of our tax base and the financial experiences of other jurisdictions upon their attainment of statehood.

I would like to know if there are any fiscal hurdles that could keep the District from becoming a state in the same manner as the other 50 jurisdictions? Are there any unique financial obstacles in the path of statehood for the District that need to be examined and brought to public attention? I would like to know what the federal fiscal practice has been in the past when other jurisdictions became states. What would be the impact on the federal payment the District now receives from the federal government?

This information would be most valuable to me in examining one of the most important issues surrounding statehood, that is, could the District support itself if it were granted statehood?

I am asking this information from the Auditor of the District of Columbia because I am confident in your professional capability and objectivity.

Sincerely,

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AUDITOR

May 6, 1976

The Honorable Walter E. Washington
Mayor of the District of Columbia
Room 520
District Building
14th & E Streets, N. W.
Washington, D. C. 20004

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In the nearly 14 months of my Office's operation, I believe that we have established a cooperative relationship with the Executive Branch. It is my desire that this cooperation continue so that my recommendations will be constructive and beneficial to the effective operation of the City Government. It is in this spirit that I am writing you.

As you are aware, this Office is conducting an audit of manpower programs as part of a city-wide audit of expenditures which augment appropriated funds. In a release dated December 26, 1974, you announced your intent to establish a Department of Labor which would include the present Department of Manpower. By Mayor's Order No. 75-58, dated March 7, 1975, you established a Task Force on the Creation of a Department of Labor. This Task Force was to recommend a design for a City Department of Labor by April 6, 1975. Your Order makes the Director of the Department of Manpower the principal source for designating resources for the Task Force.

Pursuant to our Regulations, we determined that in order to perform a comprehensive audit of the existing manpower programs, it is necessary to examine previous analyses, including the records of the Task Force. We therefore requested access to the Task Force records through its chairman, the City Administrator. Our request has been denied on two occasions. Copies of the correspondence are attached.

Your administration's denial of access to Task Force files is contrary to Section 455 of the City Charter which states that—

RECEIVED

MAY 6 1976

Julius Hobson, Sr.
Councilmember-At-Large

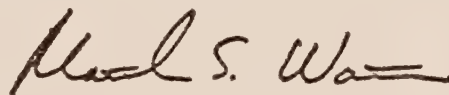

"The District of Columbia Auditor shall have access to all books, accounts, records, reports, findings and all other papers, things, or property belonging to or in use by any department, agency, or other instrumentality of the District government and necessary to facilitate the audit".

In addition, the Charter requires the Auditor to "give due regard to generally accepted principals of auditing...." The refusal to allow our access to Task Force records cannot be reconciled with the Standards for Audit of Governmental Organizations, Programs, Activities and Functions of the United States General Accounting Office which are incorporated in our regulations. These standards provide that "the auditor's ability to form independent and objective opinions and conclusions" cannot be infringed by "interference with the selection or application of audit procedures or the selection of activities to be examined." 21 D.C. Register 3979-80 (June 27, 1975)

In order to comply with the Charter, the choice of activities to be audited may not be restricted. The City Administrator's assertion that a Task Force intended to bring about a merger of the Department of Manpower with other activities is not related to the manpower programs of the City, is not persuasive. In any event, the authority to audit the Task Force, an instrumentality of the District Government, is absolute under the Charter.

Unless access is immediately available, I will have no choice but to include with any report that I may issue on manpower programs, a comment that generally accepted auditing procedures could not be followed due to actions of the Executive Branch. I therefore request that you issue a general directive to the Government that pursuant to the Charter the Auditor's access to records not be hindered.

Sincerely,

Matthew S. Watson

Dear Mr. Dugas:

This Office is in the process of conducting an audit of the City's Manpower Administration and various manpower services program. In particular, we are interested in current operations and planned changes in that program. It is my understanding that the Mayor's Task Force on the creation of a Department of Labor was established on March 7, 1975. One of the members of that task force is the Director of DCMA. In the course of the audit, I requested that he grant access to his task force files to our office. He believed, however, that these records were not a portion of his agency's operations, but a portion of a project that he is undertaking at the Mayor's behest, and that I should properly address my request to you.

I therefore request that you approve access to the files of the task force to this office.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Dugas:

This letter is to clarify our request for access to the files of the Mayor's Task Force on the creation of a Department of Labor for D. C.

This Office does not wish to bring about a relationship of confrontation between ourselves and the Executive branch of government. It is our desire, rather, to conduct our program of audit operations in an atmosphere of cooperation with the Executive. This is a relationship that we believe has existed to date. It is therefore in this spirit that I am writing you.

The audit of the D.C. Manpower program is part of a city-wide study of the relationship between appropriated and nonappropriated funds. The program spends over $30 million per year. The budget presentation, however, gives very little detail of the city's program, since it is funded almost entirely by grants from the Federal government. The audit is concerned with the city's allocation of manpower resources. I am enclosing a copy of our letter to Mr. Wilkins initiating the audit which is being directed by Mr. Bergman. In order to be comprehensive in our audit, it is necessary for us to review all relevant internal evaluations.

The Mayor's Task Force on the creation of a Department of Labor was established by Mayor's Order No. 75-58 of March 7, 1975. Its members were designated in their official capacity as representatives of their agencies. Our request, under Section 455(c) of the City Charter, is made to you as Chairman of the Task Force.

It is my hope that detailing of this background can assist in clarifying the situation and will permit the relationship between this office and the Executive branch to continue unimpaired. If I may be of any assistance in setting forth our position or if you desire a briefing on the progress of this, or other aspects of our audit program, please do not hesitate to call upon me. I hope that Mr. Bergman's request will not be delayed.

Dear Mr. Wilkins:

This Office is presently undertaking a city-wide audit of expenditure, by City agencies, of funds which augment annual appropriations. As part of this audit, your Department has been selected as an example of an agency which is almost entirely funded by non-District funds.

We are particularly interested in determining your agency's total resources and tracing the resources through the City's budget, accounting, personnel and planning processes. The audit will therefore be concerned with both financial and program areas, as well as staffing requirements.

I have asked Carl Bergman of my staff to telephone you on Monday, April 12, to discuss the scope of the audit and to arrange for meetings with appropriate personnel in your Department. I hope that the audit can begin that week.

The Honorable Sterling Tucker
Chairman
Council of the District of Columbia
Fifth Floor
District Building
Washington, D. C. 20004

Dear Mr. Tucker:

This letter is in response to a request for my analysis of the City's FY 1977 Financial Plan made through you by Senator Chiles at hearings on the FY 1977 Budget.

I have examined the plan, a copy of which is attached. I believe that it is a reasonable projection of the City's cash resources and cash needs of the budget as presented to Congress for FY 1977. It should be noted that funds have not been provided to meet General Service pay increases. In my letter of December 15, 1975, to Mr. Natcher concerning the 1976 Financial Plan, I noted several deficiencies in the theoretical basis of the Financial Plans for 1976 and prior years. Most importantly, I noted a failure of the original 1976 plan to recognize two factors, lapses of appropriated spending authority and permanent authorizations. I also questioned the combining in a single item in the plan of actual bills payable, obligated funds not yet payable, and unobligated balances of appropriations. All of these items were included in the 1976 plan within the term "Accounts Payable" and the total estimated as a single percentage of the budget.

The 1977 Financial Plan has incorporated significant improvements which meet my previous objections. Specific items have been added to account for lapsed appropriations and permanent authorizations. The remaining components of the previous "accounts payable" item are now broken down to six separate items: Current Wages payable, Pension Benefits payable, Vouchers payable, Undelivered Orders, Unobligated Apportionments, and Reserves. As noted above, in previous years, the combined "accounts payable" item was estimated by applying a single factor to one year's budget. This method was quite unreliable since it assumes that these amounts fluctuate in direct relationship to a single budget. Wages payable, the largest element of the previous "accounts payable" classification, vary according to when pay dates fall, rather than the size of the Budget. Other components of the "accounts payable" item are related to previous years' budgets, as well as the current year budget.

In this year's Financial Plan, the six individual components formally lumped together have been calculated or estimated using separately identified factors applied to specific pay periods and the current and previous fiscal years' budgets. A copy of the factors developed by the Office of Budget and Management Systems is attached. These factors accurately reflect the actual experience of the City for FY 1974 and 1975.

An important element of the Financial Plan is the estimate of receipts from local D.C. sources. The City's system of estimating its revenue receipts has proven itself over several years and I believe that the estimate in this year's plan is sound. The FY 1977 Financial Plan estimates a 13% growth in such resources. This compares to a less than 5% increase in the operating budget over FY 76. Based upon trends in local tax receipts, inflationary factors in the economy and the new tax program adopted by the Council, the estimate of local receipts is reasonable.

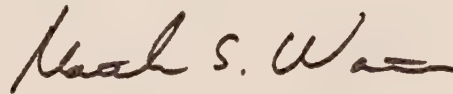

It must be recognized that the Financial Plan is a prediction of the City's financial position beginning several months in the future. The Plan can therefore be affected by unexpected events which occur, both in the year for which the Plan is made and prior to the beginning of the year. Prior events may alter the opening balances of obligations from the previous period payable in the plan year. This makes FY 1977 a particularly difficult year to plan for. All of the City's prior budgeting experience has been for full-year periods ending June 30. FY 1977 will, however, be preceded by a transition fiscal period of three months ending September 30. The City does not have historical data on balances carried forward from a period ending September 30. Further, it can only be hypothesized whether the obligation rate of City agencies will be the same in a three month "fiscal year" as it is in a 12-month year. For this reason, I believe that the City's estimate of opening balances for FY 77 as being equal to balances as of June 30, 1976, is reasonable. If the estimate of obligational balances proves incorrect, however, there will also be a compensating adjustment in the City's opening cash position for FY 1977 which should keep the FY 77 plan in balance. An additional factor which could have an impact on the FY 1977 Financial Plan is the adoption of the FY 1976 Budget. The Plan assumes passage of the 1976 Budget as requested.

The City's opening and closing cash positions are, however, an area of serious concern. The Financial Plan shows an opening cash balance for FY 77 of $482 thousand and a closing cash balance of $612 thousand. This amount is quite small relative to the City's regularly occurring cash obligations. The wages and salaries payable which are carried forward into FY 1977 represent 1.4 pay periods. This means that the salary costs payable every second week average over $25 million. With the small cash reserve that the City contemplates, a very small change in financial conditions which reduces or delays cash availability can cause a very serious temporary cash problem. This concern is not crucial as long as the United States Treasury serves as the City's banker. It assumes more serious proportions, however, as the City considers using private depositories for its funds and private sources for temporary cash advances. It would be difficult for Washington banking sources to provide even very short term advances equal to a single pay period's payroll. For this reason, I believe that future plans should provide for increasing the cash reserves of the City.

Another factor in the City's cash position is short-term borrowing from the United States Treasury. The FY 1976 Financial Plan did not make any provision for repayment of Treasury loans. At the beginning of FY 1977, the outstanding loans are expected to be $40 million. The 1977 Financial Plan contemplates a net repayment of $20 million, leaving a balance of $20 million at the end of the year. I believe that the City must continue this effort in Fiscal Year 1978 and fully repay these balances.

Sincerely,

TASK FORCE ~~on~~ ABUSED WOMEN

October 7, 1976

Julius Hobson
District Building
14th and E Streets, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hobson,

As you probably know, the problem of battered women has received a considerable amount of attention in recent months. One of the reasons for the increased publicity is the realization among the victims that they are not alone and their new willingness to speak out. As these women have begun to speak, women's groups have heard them and recognized that they must play an active role if the needs of battered women are to be met. One of these groups is the Women's Legal Defense Fund which set up a task force on battered women in late 1975. This task force is now sponsoring a conference on the problem to be held on Saturday, November 6th, from 9:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Sunday, November 7th, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at McMann Hall on the Catholic University campus.

Although the Task Force has received a $750 grant from the National League of Cities, the cost of producing a conference of this kind far exceeds that sum. Therefore we are writing to distinguished citizens like yourself whose professions have made them familiar with the problem of battered women. We are asking for a $30 contribution and in return would be honored to list your name in our program as a patron of the conference.

The conference will consist of five workshops on various aspects of the problem: "Current Laws and Enforcement", "Violence and the Family: An Overview", "Economic Independance", "Support Services", and "A Way Out: Organizing for Shelters". The keynote speaker will be Lisa Leghorn, co-author of "Houseworker's Handbook" and a member of Transition House, a shelter and hotline for battered women in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

During the course of your career, you probably have had the opportunity to see the effects of domestic violence and the lack of help or services that are available for battered women. It is our hope that you will want to take advantage of this opportunity to contribute to increased awareness and understanding of the problems and solutions concerning wife abuse by sending your check for $30 to the Women's Legal Defense Fund, 1424 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036 by October 20th. Please earmark your check for the Conference on Battered Women.

Whether or not you decide to become a patron, we hope you will attend the conference. If you do become a patron, the registration fee will of course be waived. Registration and program information will follow in the near future. We look forward to seeing you there. If you would like further information, please contact Valle Jones at 232-5293 or 232-7072.

Statement of Purpose

On June 16, 1976, the police and soldiers of the illegal racist regime of South Africa murdered dozens of Black children and students peacefully demonstrating against the imposition of Afrikaans (language of the Dutch oppressor) as the only language to be spoken in schools. A week following the massacre more than 1,000 children, students, women, and workers had been killed and thousands of others were wounded, jailed, beaten and tortured. Still today many Blacks are being slaughtered by the police and soldiers. The World Council of Churches has described the South African government and its system of apartheid as "the most abominable form of institutionalized sins". The United Nations has called Apartheid "a crime against humanity." The purpose of the memorial service is to pay homage and honor to the children, students, women, and workers who were murdered by the South African police and soldiers, and to show our solidarity with the African struggle for fundamental human rights, justice and freedom.

Dear Council Member:

On behalf of the Bar of the District of Columbia, I am writing to urge you to support a modest increase in the proposed budget for the Public Defender Service. As you know, the Bar in its recent report on defense services has taken the position that defense services in the District of Columbia are substantially underfunded. We believe that the Public Defender Service provides excellent legal assistance with its present resources but it is, nevertheless, in desperate need of increased staff.

The Public Defender Service is requesting an additional $435,800 over its fiscal year 1976 level of $1,919,700 bringing the total to $2,355,500. The Mayor has recommended only $1,910,900.

The Mayor's mark will require a reduction in staff size and services provided in that it fails to provide for mandatory cost increases and fails to provide funds for the continuation of two highly praised LEAA programs which will expire in fiscal year 1977.

We understand, however, that David A. Clarke, Chairperson of the Committee on the Judiciary and Criminal Law, has recommended that $249,400 of the requested increases be approved. This would include: Continuation of the Post-Conviction Legal Services Project, at $118,300 and five (5) new positions; four (4) new staff attorneys at $61,500; two (2) new secretaries at $18,100; two (2) new investigators at $20,000; inflationary and operating increases, at $10,000; and moving costs of $21,500.

We agree that Mr. Clarke's recommended increases are absolutely necessary. The Bar urges, however, that the full Council approve the entire $435,800 in increases as requested by the PDS. These increases are as follows:

(1) Post Conviction Legal Services Project (and 5 positions) -	$118,300
(2) Defense Attorneys' Training (and 2 positions) -	49,400
(3) Ten (10) new positions (includes 5 attorneys, 2 investigators, 2 secretaries and 1 social worker -	126,100
(4) Personnel Expenses - includes within grade increases and the cost-of-living increase -	110,400
(5) Moving Expenses and necessary renovations to 451 Indiana Avenue, N.W. -	21,500
(6) Inflationary increases - library books, paper, etc. -	10,000
Total:	$435,800

The small impact of $435,800 on the total budget of the District of Columbia is demonstrated by comparison to the $135 million budgeted for the Metropolitan Police Department and the $51 million budgeted for the Department of Corrections. This community cannot afford to cut back this crucial and inexpensive service.

Sincerely yours,

Charles R. Work

MEMORANDUM

To: Members of the City Council

From: Roderic V. O. Boggs, Executive Director RB

Date: December 23, 1976

In light of our common concern in issues of civil rights and poverty affecting the District of Columbia, I thought you might be interested in reviewing the most recent copy of the annual report of the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law. The Committee will be happy to respond to any questions you might have regarding its activities and plans. If you would like further information, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me or other members of our staff.

ANNUAL REPORT

INTRODUCTION

During each of the past six years, the Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law has prepared an annual report describing Committee work in progress, reviewing its program plans and discussing its financial needs. This year's report is a source of particular satisfaction because the last twelve months have marked the successful conclusion of a number of major Committee cases and the filing of several new lawsuits. Notable case developments include a victory in the Supreme Court in our challenge to the discriminatory admissions policies of commercially operated private schools, favorable settlements or decisions in four Title VII class actions and significant progress in our efforts to assure equal housing opportunity. In addition to these case developments, we have launched a new program to provide legal assistance to veterans seeking to challenge their less than fully honorable military discharges and have submitted a final report on our Neighborhood Legal Services Program Support Project. Favorable results in litigation and program development have been matched by a growing level of involvement in our work by new law firms and volunteers.

BACKGROUND

The Washington Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights is one of 10 affiliates of the National Lawyers' Committee which are located in cities across the country. The National Committee was founded in 1963 at the request of President Kennedy to enlist the leaders of the private bar in the effort to secure racial justice in the South. As a first step toward this objective, the Committee in 1965 established a civil rights litigation office in Jackson, Mississippi. Aided by an impressive number of volunteers from major law firms throughout the country, this office has played a vital role in validating the promise of civil rights statutes and the Constitution.

The Washington Committee and its counterparts across the country were established in 1968 and 1969 to focus the energies of the private bar on the civil rights and poverty issues of our urban centers. This new thrust, which was supported by the Ford Foundation, represented a response to the publication of the Report of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders. Over the past seven years these local committees have enlisted literally thousands of volunteer private attorneys for work on civil rights litigation. Several committees, notably those in Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and San Francisco, have developed independent well-staffed programs which have attracted substantial financial and volunteer support from the private bar.

ORGANIZATION AND GOALS

The policies of the Washington Lawyers' Committee are set by an Executive Committee of 67 attorneys drawn from a cross-section of leaders in the Washington legal community and by two Co-Chairmen, currently Stuart J. Land of Arnold & Porter and Robert L. Wald of Wald, Harkrader & Ross. The program activities of the Committee are administered by a director and staff attorneys with specific program responsibilities.

While during its early years the Committee responded exclusively to requests on an ad hoc basis, more recently it has been possible to give an equal emphasis to specific programs designed to confront particular issues. Thus, during the past five years, the Committee has organized panels of attorneys to work on individual cases and law reform issues in the areas of narcotics addiction, the parole process, equal housing and employment opportunity, and most recently, to supplement the resources of the local Neighborhood Legal Services Program and to provide legal services to veterans seeking to upgrade their less than honorable discharges. More than 500 volunteer attorneys from over 50 area law firms have worked on these projects, expending in 1975 alone well over 25,000 hours of their donated time. A listing of firms and private practitioners who have supported the Committee's work is attached as Appendix A.

COMMITTEE PROJECTS- 1975-1976

This year, not only has the Committee continued to focus a major share of its resources on the critical issue of equal employment opportunity, but, in addition, new efforts have addressed the problems of housing discrimination and legal difficulties facing veterans seeking to upgrade their less than honorable discharges. Continuing attention has also been devoted to criminal justice reform matters and to a number of cases which have been accepted on an ad hoc basis. The following sections of this report describe some of the highlights of the Committee's work during the past year. A more comprehensive listing of cases in progress, including citations, is set out in Appendix B to this report.

A. Equal Employment Opportunity - Public Sector

Although Title VII was amended in 1972 to cover the federal government, success in litigation against federal defendants has been extremely limited because of numerous procedural issues and defenses raised and litigated exhaustively by the Department of Justice. However, during the past 12 months the first major breakthroughs in this area have been achieved. Some of these positive developments include the following:

Last fall in a case litigated for the Committee by the firm of Hogan & Hartson, the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia held that federal employees are entitled to trials de novo in bringing complaints of discrimination to federal courts after an administrative determination of their claims. This year, the trial de novo question was raised before the Supreme Court in another case argued by a staff attorney of the National Lawyers' Committee. In June, a unanimous Supreme Court opinion upheld the Committee's position.

Settlement has been achieved in one of the Committee's first government Title VII class actions which challenged sex discrimination in the data processing section of the Department of Labor. Terms of settlement include monetary and injunctive relief for a number of class members as well as a strong affirmative action plan for all affected women employees. The issue of attorney's fees is yet to be resolved. This is the first government sector Title VII class action to be settled and should serve as a most important precedent for future litigation in this field. Counsel in this case has been provided by Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering.

The Committee's Executive Director and the firm of Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue have successfully represented the highest ranking black woman employee of the U. S. Civil Service Commission in administrative proceedings charging sex and race discrimination in her non-selection for the posts of Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Commission's highest level EEO appeals board. After an investigation and briefing by the parties, the Commission's EEO officer found race and sex discrimination in the complainant's non-selection. The question of whether this administrative finding of discrimination is binding upon the agency in a Title VII suit for back pay and injunctive relief is now pending.

In another important case, the firm of Arent, Fox, Kintner, Plotkin & Kahn represented a plaintiff seeking back pay and retroactive promotion after an initial finding of discrimination. The government had denied the relief requested, insisting that entitlement to back pay required that the plaintiff prove he would have been promoted in the absence of discrimination. In rejecting this position, the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia adopted the Committee's view that, where discrimination has been shown, the burden rests upon the defendant to show by clear and convincing evidence that the plaintiff would not have been promoted absent discrimination. This holding is critical, since in the past virtually no federal EEO cases had resulted in full remedial relief being granted. Upon remand, the district court applied the new test and found for the plaintiff. The court also awarded attorney's fees to the prevailing party.

The firm of Tucker, Flyer, Sanger, Reider & Lewis has successfully represented two black HEW employees who had been hired at the GS-4 level, while over a period of years white employees with identical qualifications had been hired at the GS-5 level. The plaintiffs' complaints had been dismissed administratively for failure to file charges within 30 days of the initial acts of discrimination even though the complainants were found later to have had no reason to suspect discrimination at the time they were first employed. This case is of particular importance because it stands for the proposition that the statute of limitations in government Title VII cases does not begin to run until a complainant has a reasonable basis for believing that discrimination has occurred.

In another government Title VII case, Judge Sirica has upheld the Committee's contention of racial discrimination in the denial of promotion and tuition payments to a black employee by the Naval Observatory and granted relief which includes a retroactive promotion, back pay and an award of attorney's fees for both federal court litigation and administrative representation. This case, which was argued over a year ago, was one of the first district court actions to raise the issue of the appropriate standard for awarding back pay and a retroactive promotion after an agency finding of discrimination. Counsel in this case has been provided by the firms of Fly, Shuebruk, Blume & Gaguine and Callihan, Hadley & House and the Committee's Executive Director.

The Committee, the firm of Sidley & Austin and the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, Inc., have obtained a district court ruling certifying a class action against NASA, upholding the standing of a minority employee organization to bring suit under Title VII and requiring the Civil Service Commission to adopt new regulations for processing class action discrimination complaints. Work has also continued on five other class action discrimination cases in which Committee firms are involved. Although substantial progress in these cases was delayed while the Supreme Court considered the basic trial de novo issue, in two of the Committee cases motions for summary judgment await decisions. In others, motions for reconsideration of class certification denials are pending. The firms of Arnold & Porter; Covington & Burling; Hogan & Hartson; Ivins, Phillips & Barker; and Williams, Connolly & Califano are each handling one of these cases.

Settlement has been reached in a sex discrimination case brought by the firm of Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering on behalf of a woman whose application for a White House Fellowship was rejected. The principal issue in this case was the coverage of the White House Fellowship Program by Title VII. After denial of defendant's motion to dismiss, settlement was reached whereby the defendant has conceded that its future employment practices will be covered by Title VII.

The firm of Arent, Fox, Kintner, Plotkin & Kahn and the Committee staff have filed three amicus curiae briefs - two in district court and the third in the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia - in cases involving the appropriate standard for awarding attorney's fees in federal government Title VII cases. In both district court cases, a substantial award of fees was ordered. The Court of Appeals case is pending.

The firm of Beveridge, Fairbanks & Diamond has prepared a draft of legislation to provide a federal cause of action for employees of the Legislative Branch who face discrimination in their employment. The Committee's assistance in this matter had been sought by letters from three Members of Congress.

Two years ago the Committee recommended that the District of Columbia Bar establish an employment discrimination complaint service for federal employees which would continue the work begun by the Committee under a grant from the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation. The Committee's proposal was subsequently adopted and, in April of this year, the Bar released its second annual report on this program's activities. The results were quite encouraging: to date, over 500 clients have been served by more than 300 participating attorneys and approximately 40,000 hours of legal services have been generated, a great deal of it free or on a contingent fee basis. The Bar's adoption of this program has served as an incentive for the Committee to suggest additional permanent referral programs to continue its pilot efforts in other areas. Hopefully, the Bar referral service will become a model for other bar associations around the country.

Equal Employment Opportunity - Private Sector

Beginning with an Equal Employment Opportunity Commission supported program for involving the private bar in Title VII cases in 1971, the Committee has concentrated a significant share of its resources on the initiation of class action lawsuits challenging discriminatory employment practices of private sector employers and unions. Altogether, a total of 30 class actions in the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia have been assigned to cooperating firms under the EEOC grant program. Robert Wallace, the director of our initial work in this area, has now been assigned to coordinate the work of the National Lawyers' Committee in private sector Title VII cases. In this capacity, he will continue to work with Washington firms on local cases.

Recently, several Title VII class actions in the private sector have been settled on highly favorable terms or won at trial. Developments in cases of particular importance include:

Last fall settlement was achieved in a major class action lawsuit involving the Allied Chemical Corporation in Virginia. Under terms of the consent order agreed to, more than $200,000 in back pay was awarded to a class of several hundred black employees and broad-ranging injunctive relief ordered. This summer, the district court awarded attorney's fees totaling $101,000 to the plaintiffs' lawyers in this case. The firms of Covington & Burling and Hill, Tucker & Marsh served as co-counsel with the Committee in this case.

In May of this year a decision was issued in a class action involving the Western Electric Company which had been tried in Alexandria, Virginia before District Judge Albert V. Bryan. The decision issued in this case, which affects an estimated class of 2,500 past and present employees, found race and sex discrimination in a variety of defendant's recruitment and promotion practices. Recently, the court issued a decision ordering broad class-wide relief, including back pay, front pay and a strong affirmative action plan of goals and timetables for future hiring and promotion. This case is being handled by the firms of Arnold & Porter and Cohen, Vitt & Annand.

A decision of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in a Committee case has in effect sustained a lower court order merging white and black bricklayers' unions and authorizing a significant award of back pay to members of a class of black workers. Counsel in this case was provided by the firm of Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering.

A recent decision issued by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in another Committee case has established the right of an incumbent employee of Greyhound Lines to represent job applicants as well as other incumbents in a Title VII race discrimination class action. Counsel in this case is being provided by Robert B. Fitzpatrick and Kenneth Johnson.

A major construction industry case challenging the promotional and hiring practices of a contractor who is no longer operating in the Washington area was settled for $200,000 in back pay for the class. Counsel in this case was provided by Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering.

Class certification has been granted in a nationwide class action filed on behalf of all women employees of National Airlines who are being or have been affected by the defendant's maternity leave policy. The firm of Debevoise & Liberman is assisting in this case.

The Committee and cooperating firms are litigating a series of separate lawsuits challenging the practices of numerous construction industry unions. Defendants in these actions include the local Sheet Metal Workers' Union, the local Ironworkers' Union and the local Electrical Workers' Union. Counsel in these matters is being provided by the firms of Steptoe & Johnson; Patton, Boggs & Blow; and Wald, Harkrader & Ross, respectively.

Extensive discovery is nearly concluded in a major case challenging the hiring and promotion policies of the Brown & Williamson Tobacco Company. Counsel in this case has been provided by the firm of Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue.

In addition to these cases, it is expected that a number of new private sector Title VII matters will be available for assignment to cooperating firms during the next several months.

B. Equal Housing Opportunity

In March of this year, the Committee decided to focus a major share of its attention on the provision of legal assistance to victims of housing discrimination. As part of this effort, a staff attorney was assigned to work exclusively on housing issues and as a result a number of new cases have been accepted for referral, while work also continues on several pending matters. Developments in this field include the following:

This summer Judge Aubrey Robinson of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia approved a consent order agreed to by the parties in one of the Committee's first major housing cases. Plaintiffs in this litigation, a black real estate broker and her black physician customer, alleged that the defendant real estate company and its agent had first steered them away from a property located in an exclusively white area of Northwest Washington and later denied them the opportunity to view the home in question. Under terms of the settlement, the defendants, while denying the allegations of discrimination, agreed to: a monetary settlement of $12,500; a program of affirmative action which includes advertising in minority newspapers for customers and the mailing of letters seeking cooperation with black brokers; and a reporting procedure under which they will regularly provide plaintiffs with lists of their contacts with black agents, customers and sales for a three-year period. Finally, the defendants have agreed to cooperate in the future with the plaintiff agent in the sale or rental of all listed properties for which she provides eligible clients. This agreement represents one of the most comprehensive and favorable settlements achieved in a housing discrimination case in the Washington area. Counsel in this case was provided by the firm of Truitt, Fabrikant, Bucklin & Lenzner and the Committee's Executive Director.

The first redlining suit in the Washington area challenging the alleged discriminatory lending policies of a local savings and loan association has been filed. A motion to dismiss is pending in this case. Counsel in this case is being provided by the firm of Yablonski, Both and Edelman and the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

By terms of a settlement in another case, a major local advertising agency has agreed to comply with the HUD advertising guidelines and Title VIII of the 1968 Fair Housing Act, and to encourage its clients to use integrated settings in at least 25% of their advertisements. This is the first settlement achieved by the Committee in a housing case involving an advertising agency as opposed to a specific developer. It is particularly significant because the agency involved represents more than 20 local developers. Counsel in this case was provided by the firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton and the Committee's Associate Director.

A jury verdict of discrimination and an award of $2,250 in damages have been returned in the Committee's first Title VIII housing discrimination case to go to trial. An appeal has been noted in the case on the issue of the appropriate amount of attorney's fees. Representation was provided by the firm of Chapman, Gadsby, Hannah & Duff.

Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment on the issue of liability has been granted in a Title VIII case involving the alleged failure of a local real estate firm to sell a condominium on the basis of race. In reaching this result, the district court gave collateral estoppel effect to a state human rights agency's finding of discrimination. Still pending in this case is the issue of the proper measure of damages when disputed property has substantially appreciated in value since the alleged act of discrimination. Counsel is being provided by the firm of Arnold & Porter.

During the months ahead, the Committee anticipates that many new housing cases will be available for referral to cooperating firms.

C. Military Discharge Review Project

In January of this year, the Committee began work on a new project supported by the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation which aims to provide legal assistance to veterans who wish to challenge their less than fully honorable discharges. The response to this new program has been remarkable: in the nine months since its inception more than 200 veterans, many with complaints of racial discrimination, have sought the Committee's aid. To date, 65 of these cases have been assigned to cooperating lawyers. Counsel has been provided in 60 other cases by John Garland, the project's director. In addition to the provision of counsel in individual cases, the project has also been involved in several law reform cases. These include:

A lawsuit filed with the National Military Discharge Review Project of the Georgetown University Law Center which seeks to require Discharge Boards to publish their findings and conclusions and render written opinions. This suit was prompted by the severe difficulties occasioned by the absence of any body of decisional law in the discharge area.

An action brought in conjunction with the firm of Hogan & Hartson and the National Military Discharge Review Project which challenges the military's policy of issuing less than honorable discharges to all veterans who have been found to have a "character or behavior disorder." Since, according to reputable medical authorities, many forms of character and behavior disorders are medical problems beyond the control of those afflicted, the result of the military's present policy is to stigmatize a class of innocent victims.

Recently, the Meyer Foundation has provided the Committee with supplemental funding to continue and expand this program for an additional nine months. After the conclusion of this period, we hope to recommend that a volunteer panel administered by the District of Columbia Bar assume responsibility for work in this area.

D. NLSP Support

In November of 1974, the Committee began the operation of a project funded by the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation under which cases developed by the District of Columbia Neighborhood Legal Services Program (NLSP) would be referred to cooperating law firms. In February of this year, a final report on this program was prepared and submitted to the NLSP, the Meyer Foundation and the District of Columbia Bar. A principal recommendation of the Committee's report on this project was that the District of Columbia Bar should consider means by which a more permanent referral system could be developed to provide private bar assistance to NLSP. Highlights of work in this area include: the establishment by Hogan & Hartson of a continuing relationship with a particular Neighborhood Law Office under which more than 26 cases requiring in excess of 800 hours of attorney time were handled; the referral of an additional 75 cases in numerous areas of poverty law to volunteers representing 32 other law firms and a number of government agencies; the successful litigation of an action to prevent the demolition of a low-income housing project scheduled for destruction by HUD; and the representation of several low-income tenant organizations in support of the District of Columbia's rent control legislation.

E. General

In addition to work within specific subject areas, the Committee has been active in a number of cases which do not fall within special categories. Significant developments in this general category include the following:

On June 25, 1976, the Supreme Court issued its decision in a case upholding the Committee's claim that the Civil Rights Act of 1866, 42 U.S.C. § 1981, applies to the discriminatory admissions policies of commercially operated private schools. The majority opinion of Mr. Justice Stewart viewed the case as a classic violation of the act and rejected the petitioners' contentions that their conduct was protected under the First and Ninth Amendments. The Court affirmed the Fourth Circuit's denial of attorney's fees and its application of Virginia's two-year statute of limitations to the case. Counsel in this case was provided by Robert M. Alexander; Allison W. Brown, Jr.; and the Committee's Executive Director.

The firm of Mullin, Connor & Rhyne has successfully settled a suit brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1981 challenging the alleged refusal of a local moving company to carry out its contractual obligation to move the household possessions of an integrated couple. Under the terms of the settlement obtained in this case, the plaintiffs received $2,000 in damages.

A petition for certiorari has been denied in the Committee's suit against the Civil Aeronautics Board and South African Airways which had challenged the refusal of the Board to hear evidence of discrimination against black Americans at SAA's facilities and on continuation flights within South Africa. Assistance in this matter was provided by Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering and by Goler T. Butcher.

Discovery is nearing completion in a federal court suit challenging the dismissal of a black youngster from an Elks Lodge sponsored youth football team participating in an Anne Arundel County recreation league. Assistance on this matter is being provided by the firm of Sachs, Greenebaum & Tayler.

Upon the successful settlement of a case involving the denial of medical treatment which resulted in the death of an injured inmate at Lorton Reformatory, the firm of Shea & Gardner tried a companion case raising issues of inadequate security at the Lorton Complex. Although the jury in the case found no liability, it appears likely that the high quality of research and preparation involved in this case will be effectively utilized by other plaintiffs in a number of cases presenting similar questions which have been set for trial during the next few months.

On behalf of the Committee, the firm of Peabody, Rivlin, Lambert & Meyers has assisted in the preparation of detailed guidelines for application to Title 34 of the District of Columbia Code by the District of Columbia Office of Human Rights.

A preliminary injunction remains in effect during settlement discussions in a Committee case challenging denials of procedural due process in the disciplinary regulations adopted by the District of Columbia Department of Corrections. Assistance in this case has been provided by the firms of Covington & Burling and Cohen, Vitt & Annand.

PROGRAM PLANS

Although the Committee has achieved a number of impressive victories during the past year, it is obvious that much remains to be done before the goal of equal opportunity for all citizens is achieved. During the next year, a high priority will remain the successful litigation of our major Title VII lawsuits challenging employment discrimination in the Washington area by private employers, unions and government. In addition to the numerous pending matters in this area which will move to trial or settlement in the months ahead, a number of new cases have recently been referred to cooperating firms. Our successes this year in eliminating many of the basic procedural barriers to effective litigation of Title VII cases in the federal sector and in settling several major class action suits suggest that further progress will be possible in this field.

In the area of equal housing opportunity, we will continue to work with local fair housing groups to provide counsel in suits challenging discriminatory refusals to rent or sell property. Special attention will be placed on advertising and redlining practices which affect broad classes of plaintiffs. Likewise, we will continue our work in the military discharge area seeking to achieve favorable results for individual clients and to conclude our litigation of class action suits.

Over the past two years, the Committee worked closely with the District of Columbia Bar to develop programs which can expand the level of pro bono services available to the public.

One result of these efforts was the Bar's sponsorship of a lawyer referral program to provide counsel in individual government Title VII cases. During the year ahead, we hope to work with the Bar in developing new programs in the fields of poverty law, military discharge problems and equal housing opportunity. Our efforts in this regard should be facilitated by the presence of Ann Macrory as the D. C. Bar's Director of Public Interest Activities. Prior to her assuming this new position, Ann served with distinction on the Committee's staff for several years.

FUNDRAISING AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Over the years, the Washington Lawyers' Committee has looked primarily to area law firms to meet its basic budgetary needs. We believe this is appropriate since the Committee's principal mission is to provide opportunities for the private bar to work on issues of poverty and discrimination in the community. Last year, a total of $65,095 was raised from 66 law firms and five individuals.

For 1976-1977, the Committee has set $80,000 as its fundraising objective. This is the amount required to cover the cost of office overhead, a small litigation fund, and the salaries of our Director, staff attorney and two secretaries. It is hoped that the Committee's needs can be met from additional private firm contributions and from the award of attorney's fees in pending cases.

CONCLUSION

The Washington Lawyers' Committee would like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation for the impressive level of assistance and support provided to it by area firms in past years. In looking ahead, we would like to invite new firms which have not been active in our programs to join us in working on civil rights cases in any of the areas reviewed in this report. Likewise, we, of course, welcome renewed assistance from the many firms and individuals who have shared experiences with us on projects and cases in the past.

APPENDIX A

The following law firms and private practitioners have supported the work of the Washington Lawyers' Committee:

Arent, Fox, Kintner, Plotkin & Kahn
Arnold & Porter

Ms. Mae Morris Walterhouse
2500 N. Van Dorn Street #408
Alexandria, Virginia 22302

Dear Ms. Walterhouse:

Thank you for your letter of January 8th.
With the good wishes of persons such as yourself
I know that I will have the courage to continue the struggle. I am also pleased ~~that we can count~~ upon your support for Statehood for the District of Columbia.

Sincerely,

Julius W. Hobson

RECEIVED

JAN 12 1977

Julius Hobson, Sr.
Councilmember-At-Large

Mr. Julius Hobson
D. C. City Council
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hobson:

I was very saddened to read one day this week about your new struggle - now leukemia. I hope, with all my heart, that you will overcome this too.

I have known your wife, Tina, since January 1971. I liked her instantly and respect and admire her tremendously. I also met you - very briefly - either in June 1971 or in June 1972 at an annual National FEW banquet held at ~~one~~ <sup>one</sup> evening. Later I visited your home at a wine tasting party.

I know that you know how much you have contributed to making some of the changes we so needed in our society. You have been a true bellwether, an inspiration to all who knew you. The world needs a lot more Julius Hobsons; it has been my misfortune not to know you individually. I know, however, that all those who do are better in many ways for the experience. (When I lived in Florida (several years ago a series of articles were run on you, your efforts, your ideologies) someone here sent me that series and I was grateful for the insight; it was good for my own development.)

I totally support your DC Statehood proposal and believe that you will accomplish this. I hope it materializes soon.

Thanks for being you and for your greatness - and for touching the lives of many people with your humanness and for the good and positive results it has created. And if anyone can survive this new problem (leukemia), I know you can - and I pray that you do.

Sincerely,

Mae Morris Walterhouse

Tues. P. M.

Dear Mr. Hobson -

I recently learned of your added illness - it had to be quite a shock. There is hope! We had a terminal Cancer here about one year ago, she was saved by the power of prayer. Miracles are still happening. Are you familiar with the 700 Club on Ch. 20, Sun. eve. + 10 AM every day?

Remember all the Miracles that Jesus performed - it is still possible.

If I can be of further help, please let me know.

your friend,
Ruby Wright

ERYA Committee Staff

Please place Ms. Cleo M. Jollivette on official Leave Without Pay status. I have been informed that her health has not improved sufficiently for her to return to duty for at least sixty days.

During the interim, I would like to hire Mr. Lou Aronica on a temporary basis. Please advise what steps should be taken to fill her position for a period of sixty (60) days.

COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20004

JULIUS W. HOBSON
Councilman at Large

February 22, 1977

Honorable Walter Washington
Mayor
District of Columbia
City Hall
14th and E Streets, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20004

Dear Mayor Washington:

On July 20, 1976, the Council of the District of Columbia adopted Resolution 1-343, "School Cost Center Reporting Resolution", which required detailed cost information on a quarterly basis concerning the public school system.

Section 4 of the resolution provides for an initial report to the Council of the city's plans and progress toward the full implementation of the resolution; it further specifies that the first report should be provided by August 15, 1976. Subsequent reports were due on October 15, 1976 and January 15, 1977. To date, no reports or communications have been received by the Council or the Committee on Education, Recreation, and Youth Affairs, as mandated by Resolution 1-343.

At its third regular meeting, Council Period Two, February 15, 1977, the Committee on Education, Recreation and Youth Affairs approved the attached motion which requests immediate response by the Executive.

While I understand that the Office of Budget and Management Systems is currently working on the implementation of the resolution, I and other members of the Committee on Education, Recreation and Youth Affairs are disturbed that no formal response has been received from your office.

Please advise the Committee when we can expect the reports required by Resolution 1-343, pursuant to the authority granted the Council in Section 448 of the Charter.

Sincerely,

Julius W. Hobson
Chairman

Committee on Education, Recreation & Youth Affairs

cc: Councilmembers, Mr. Edward Webb, General Counsel
Mr. John Risher, Corporation Counsel, Dr. Therman Evans,
President, Board of Education

Motion adopted by the Committee on Education, Recreation, and Youth Affairs at the third regular meeting, Council Period Two, February 15, 1977:

Resolved, that the Executive be requested to provide the Council of the District of Columbia with the initial planning and implementation report required by Resolution 1-343 within thirty (30) days of its adoption; that the Executive provide the Council with a schedule of activities necessary for the implementation of the school cost center reporting system. Such reports should be transmitted to the Council within ten (10) days after receipt of this resolution; reports should identify the major impediments which delayed compliance with Resolution 1-343 and proposed steps assuring future quarterly reporting on a school-by-school basis.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Robert Williams, Council Secretary
FROM: Julius W. Hobson, Councilman at Large
SUBJECT: Promotion for Paul "Sandy" Brown

Would you please prepare the necessary papers for the promotion of Paul Sanders Brown, my Executive Assistant, from a GS-12 to a GS-13 grade level as soon as possible. If you have any questions regarding this request please talk with me.

Date March 8, 1977

Subject Staffing for ERYA Committee

Pursuant to my discussion with your office, Ms. Patricia Miner, Staff Director, has written Cleo Jollivette advising her that she will be terminated effective Friday, March 11, because she is unable to return to work. As you know, Ms. Jollivette has been on leave without pay since the beginning of 1977, because of illness. She has advised us that she would be unable to return for quite some time because of the need for further medical treatment.

I would like to request that Mr. Lou Aronica be hired to replace Ms. Jollivette on the Committee Staff. Mr. Aronica is fully familiar with both Committee and Council operations and will be able to fulfill the functions which Ms. Jollivette performed. He has registered with CETA and should be able to begin work as soon as possible.

Your prompt attention to this matter is requested. If you need any further information, please contact Ms. Miner.

Dear Ms. Jollivette:

This is to inform you that effective the close of business March 11, 1977 you will be terminated from your position as Committee Aide with the Committee on Education, Recreation and Youth Affairs. I am very sorry that you were unable to resume your duties here at the Council; however, because of the high workload which we must complete as quickly as possible, we can no longer function effectively without a staff person performing your assigned functions. Although you have been on leave without pay since December because of your illness, we had hoped that you might return within 30 to 60 days. Since you did not I have no alternative but to attempt to hire a replacement as soon as possible.

I wish you luck in your future endeavors and offer my best wishes for your full health.

Sincerely,

Patricia Evans Miner
Staff Director
